Detention Home Refused Despite Law

By GEORGE COMINOS

Richland county commissioners stated flatly yesterday that they weren't going to do anything about providing a juvenile detention home. They said the county does not have money for one.

The question as to what they were going to do was asked of Chairman Guy F. Stewart. Commissioners C. L. Shoup and Fred W. Dill were present during the interview.

Speaking for the board, Stewart replied: "We're not going to do anything now." He gave as the reason: "We don't have any money."

"A detention home would run into a lot of money," Stewart added. "The county doesn't have sufficient funds." He said the county could build or buy through a bond issue, but there were no plans for one since commissioners didn't believe it would pass.

Dill also pointed out that the county did not have the money. He said he visited a possible home site with Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer last week as a "courtesy."

Stewart also quoted Judge Cramer as saying he'd take care of obtaining a home.

The board chairman declined to amplify as to what he meant by the word "now." In reply to a question he said the board had not set up funds in the 1950 budget, recently approved, for providing a home. That would be the job of the commissioners, Stewart admitted. Thus, no home could be provided for at least the next 18 months, if then.

Judge Cramer said he had not asked for anything expensive. He said he wanted the county to rent a place, preferably, with the owners possibly acting as matron and superintendent.

The Ohio General code says specifically that the county commissioners shall provide a detention home.

Section 1639-22 reads in part: "Upon the advice and recommendation of the judge of the court . . . the county commissioners shall provide, by purchase or lease, a place to be known as a detention home."

Judge Cramer said that as far as he knew the commissioners had taken no action on the problem. Yesterday's interview made this evident. Yet the commissioners have known of the problem for more than a year. Last summer the Salvation Army served notice that the detention home there would not be available afterJan. 1.

Since that date, police and the sheriff have held juvenile delinquents in jail. A 13-year-old girl, held as a witness in a morals case, is in county jail now.

She was placed in a foster home last Friday, but ran off Saturday. The court then ordered her held in jail. A 16 and a 17-year-old boy were held in a cell in the county jail part of Tuesday and yesterday.

Judge Cramer said they would have been held in a detention home — if the county had one. Juveniles have also been held in the city jail, for as long as two weeks.

In this connection, the same section of the Ohio code provides that "No child under 18 years of age shall be placed in or committed to any prison, jail or lockup, nor shall such child be brought into any police station, vehicle or other place where such child can come in contact or communication with any adult convicted of crime or under arrest and charged with crime; provided, that a child 14 years of age or older, whose habits or conduct are deemed such as to constitute a menace to other children may, with the consent of the judge or chief probation officer, be placed in a jail or other place of detention for adults, but in a room or ward separate from adults."

During the entire controversy not a single civic or other type of organization has seen fit to make inquiry or bring the question to a head.

Slayer Scampers Around On Top of Water Tower

LIMA — (AP) — An insane slayer today admitted he was cold and sleepy after a night on top of Lima state hospital's 130-foot water tower.

Raymond Jutila scampered up the lofty tower yesterday morning after guards stopped a desperate escape attempt.

But officials of the institution

for the criminal insane apparently were not very worried. They confidently played a waiting game.

"We'll wait him out," Dr R. E Bushong, hospital superintendent said.

The 35 - year - old demented slayer shouted answers to the questions of guards. Asked how he felt after a night on his perch, Jutila admitted "it was a little cold."

But he quickly added he had no intention of coming down.

"I'll stay up here two weeks if I have to," he defiantly replied to the pleading of guards.

Jutila has been demanding that officials furnish "protection for my family from some released convicts." He did not identify the convicts.

The slayer also wanted guards to call Police Chief William Johnson of Warren. Jutila was sentenced from Warren Dec. 24, 1935, for the rape - slaying of Mrs. Marie Tobin, 25.

Jutila refused to say why he wanted to talk to Johnson.

"Not until you send that telegram and get Johnson down here."

Every trick to force Jutila down from his perch on a catwalk at the base of the tank failed.

Guards pleaded, cajoled, threatened — Jutila laughed.

When they saw him getting water to drink from the top of the tank, Dr. Bushong ordered the water level lowered But Jutila found another way.

The slayer found a piece of rope left on the tower from last winter's repair work. He unwound the strands — make a long string and lowered a tobacco can into the tank to get water.

Hospital officials hoped hunger would force him down.

But yesterday Jutila jauntily displayed two candy bars.

A guard today said he thought Jutila had eaten the bars during the night.

Twice yesterday Jutila came within 30 feet of the ground. But each time he scampered back to the catwalk.

Guards constantly played searchlights on Jutila during the night Extra guards were assigned to watch the tower in case Jutila attempted another escape from the grounds.

Girl Falls Off Truck, Dies

Lexington Senior Victim

Injury Fatal To Rose Keith

Rose May Keith, 16, of Lexington, R. D. 2, died in Galion City hospital at 8:22 p. m. yesterday, approximately two and a half hours after she fell off the rear of a moving farm truck on State Route 314, southeast of Galion.

The girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Keith of the Lexington address, was riding in the rear of the truck, driven by her brother, Paul J. Keith, 20. The girl was believed to have died from a skull fracture suffered when her head struck the highway in the fall.

State highway patrolmen of the Marion post, who investigated the accident, said the mishap occurred at 6 p. m. five miles north of the Richland-Morrow county line. Miss Keith is the 13th person to have died in highway accidents in the county so far this year. Ten lost their lives in the same period last year

HELPED HARVEST

It was reported that the victim, her brother, a three-year-old sister, Sally, and Albert Smith, 15, also of Lexington, were returning from a neighbor's farm where the children had been helping with harvesting operations. The baby sister and the Smith youth also were in the rear of the truck when the accident occurred.

Miss Keith was born in Crestline on Oct. 30, 1932 and would have been a senior next fall at Lexington high school. She was an active member of the Home Economics club at the school.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Peyton of Lexington and Mrs. Robert Stickney of Mansfield; another brother, John, at home and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Ballinger of Columbus, formerly of Crestline.

The body has been removed to the Beck funeral home at Crestline where arrangements are incomplete.

CONTAMINATED — Twenty-five families dip their buckets and dippers into this loosely covered well, which is below a row of outside toilets, one of which can be seen on the hill in the background. State health officials said yesterday the well was "unsafe" and may be one of the sources for disease which has struck the Country club allotment area. Here Mr. and Mrs. Jethro Lawhorn, Hanna road, and their daughter, Betty, 2, inspect the well after they heard it was condemned. Some Hanna road residents have been using this well for four years.

Girls Squeal As Motorist Doffs Pants

OXFORD, N C. — (INS) — Burley Day was driving up Oxford's main street when the car in front of his squealed to a stop and an excited man hopped from the driver's seat

He hobbled back to Day's car and pleaded:

"Help me, please."

There was, he said, something in his britches, "and I'm holding it with my hand."

Day said he stripped off the man's trousers while traffic waited and several women screamed.

The women yelled louder when a big, black rat scampered from the gentleman's pants and ran toward them.

Flash Flood Kills Girl

CHARLESTON, W Va. — (INS) — One person was reported drowned and at least 30 families were homeless today in flash floods that caused heavy damage in the rich agriculture area of Braxton, Webster and Nicholas counties in West Virginia.

State police at Sutton reported early today that the flood waters in that area were receding. The Elk river crested at 22 feet late yesterday afternoon at Sutton where the normal stage is about four feet, police said.

Fire Chief Kent Diffield reported that although no persons were reported missing in Sutton, property damage would run into the thousands of dollars. Damage, principally to crops, throughout the Elk valley was estimated at nearly one million dollars.

The death was reported by Carl Morris, a miner, of near Erbacon. Webster county, who said his 13-year-old daughter was pulled from his grasp in the swirling flood waters of Laurel creek.

Weather? It's Normal

Everything's normal, says the weatherman—skies, winds, temperatures. That's true in Mansfield and most of the rest of the state today and will hold good tomorrow.

Yesterday's temperature was a bit above average but tomorrow's readings will be typically summer. Highs will range up to the mid-80's and lows will range in the mid-60's. In the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today, Mansfield had a high of 82 and a low of 63.

The official forecast is for considerable cloudiness with a few scattered showers today and tonight. Friday will be partly cloudy with scattered afternoon showers likely and little change in temperature.

Push Steel Truce Plea

Murray, Truman Apply Pressure

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman put pressure on the steel industry's big three producers today to go along with his plan of averting a strike Saturday.

Asking United States Steel, Republic and Bethlehem to reconsider their rejections of his plan to submit the wage - pension dispute to a special inquiry board for a recommended solution, Mr. Truman told the three,

"Surely you are not afraid to have your side of this dispute examined in the public interest."

While some smaller steel firms and the CIO United Steel Workers union accepted Mr. Truman's plan, the big three had contended it by - passed Taft - Hartley law procedures for strikes imperilling the nation's health or safety.

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and its steel union, said he will issue a strike order today to apply to all steel firms rejecting Mr. Truman's plan for a 60 - day strike truce.

Mr. Truman, in asking the three to reconsider yesterday, said it was his opinion the present situation "does not constitute such an immediate peril to the national health or safety" as to invoke Taft - Hartley emergency strike clauses

Quarter-Finals Friday

3 Mansfielders Still In Tourney

Three Mansfielders were among the 16 survivors in the 43rd Ohio Amateur golf tournament at 1 p. m. today.

However, only two were given a chance to get into the quarter-final round tomorrow at the Westbrook Country club. Still in the running are: Al Hager, Westbrook club champion; Dale Rose and Pete Thoma, the public links star from Coolridge. Thoma and Rose were scheduled to collide this afternoon while Hager was to meet Fred Wilts of Findlay

Hager was two under par in defeating Carl Wiseman, Westbrook, 5 up and 4 to play. Wiseman was only two over par figures for the 14 holes played. In contrast, Thoma was three over par in 17 holes as he eliminated Max McConnell, Roscoe, 2 and 1. McConnell had been runner-up in the Ohio Amateur in 1947.

Rose eliminated Tom Whiteway of Cleveland, 1 up. Arnie Adams, the fifth Mansfielder, in today's competition was eliminated by Vince Leskosky, Youngstown public linkster, 4 and 3.

Most of the favorites came through as Harold Paddock, the defending champion from Chagrin Falls, knocked off Allan Whaling of Cincinnati, 2 up. Paddock was to mee' Dick Evans, University of Michigan golfer from Shaker Heights, in a feature match. Evans was well under par figures this morning in defeating Lt. Jack Mann, Toledo, 3 and 2. Mann had eliminated Hager in the semi-finals last year in Dayton.

Other second round results this morning follow: Steve Pipoly, Youngstown, defeated Sam Zoller, Zanesville, 3 and 2; Pete Dye, Urbana, defeated Dr. Frank Bellimo, Youngstown, 2 and 1; Dow Finsterwald, Athens, defeated William Picard, Cleveland, 2 and 1; Tom Strange, Cincinnati, defeated Don Johnson, Columbus, 2 up; Jack Kirkpatrick, Akron, defeated Bill Leonard, Lima, 2 up;

Ed Meister, Cleveland, defeated Bob Roll, Greenville, 1 up; Dan Carmichael, Columbus, defeated Bob Seyler, Cleveland, 1 up; Lew Martin, St. Clairsville, defeated Mort Olman, Cincinnati 5 and 4; John Zoller, Columbus, defeated Squire Caldwell, Urbana, 4 and 3 and Wilts defeated Robert Kennedy, Tiffin, 1 up on the 19th hole.

Quarter-final and semi-final matches are scheduled tomorrow with the 36-hole finals listed for Saturday. This morning's play cut the field to 16 players, a sharp drop from the 183 who started competition Monday at Westbrook.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sens. Taft (R) Ohio and Flanders (R) Vt., today introduced a Senate resolution calling for President Truman to extend the Monroe Doctrine to the nations of western Europe. Flanders told the Senate that the resolution, combined with an earlier measure designed to strengthen the United Nations, was offered as a substitute for the Atlantic Pact.

Cupboards Bare, So's Ohio Bank Account

Delay In Checks Hurts Aged Pensioners

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Old age pensioners—their food larders nearly empty—continued their helpless wait for state and checks.

Some 70,000 pension checks already are overdue. The number will increase each day.

The reason? Funds for the pensions are tied up in the state's two-year, $647,000,000 budgets which the legislature still is trying to pass

Several cases of genuine hardship have been reported. A Cleveland woman said she had only two potatoes and an orange as her food supply until she receives her pension check. Her check was due last Saturday.

When will the pensioners get their checks? No one will say But even if the legislature passes the budget today, Ohio's needy will not receive their checks before late Friday or Saturday.

"We just can't mail checks for which there is no money," William C McIntyre, chief of the Aid for Aged division, said yesterday

McIntyre suggested pensioners in serious need of food could go to their city or county poor relief offices and apply for aid.

In some cases this might provide a limited solution But many city and county relief divisions are hard-pressed for funds.

McIntyre said the checks are being made out each day according to the division's regular schedule. But they are not being mailed

The checks are made out and mailed according to groups arranged alphabetically.

Whew! Garlic Lovers Plan Special Week

ATLANTA —(INS)— There are weeks for this and weeks for that. Georgia even has a "Leave Us Alone Week."

But today a new one comes along It's national "Eat-More-Garlic Week."

The dates are July 18-25 and it's sponsored by the Ancient and Aromatic Order of Amalgamated Garlic Fanciers, who are out to prove that "garlic is not to be sniffed at."

President's Talk Brings Hot Answers

'Selfish' Charge Irks Dems, GOP

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman's sharp attack on "selfish interests urging drastic cuts" in federal spending collided today with both Democratic and Republican criticism in Congress.

So did his assertion that many people would like to have a depression "for political reasons."

Senator Pepper (D - Fla) called Mr. Truman's arguments "reasonable commonsense and full of practical justification."

The President spoke out last night in telling the nation about his new program designed to expand production and avert a more serious business slump.

"We shall have to be sure," the President said, "that the selfish interests do not drive us into the ditch, as they have done before."

Senator McClellam (D-Ark), chief sponsor of the economy resolution, commented there are certain contemplated expenditures for public works "that would of course stimulate our economy," but he added:

"There are other savings that can and should be made, and it is the duty of the President and the Congress jointly to bring about such economies."

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala), another signer of the economy petition, also took issue with Mr. Truman.

"If conditions remain as good as they are now, we must work to assure a balanced budget," Sparkman declared. "I am not willing to anticipate a depression and encourage deficit spending"

Republicans let loose with hot criticism. Said House minority leader Martin of Massachusetts·

"Every day the Democratic 81st Congress is in session makes the Republican 80th Congress look better. The President may be fooling himself but he isn't fooling many other people.

"If cutting taxes last year was such an awful blunder, I don't know why the President isn't standing by his original request for a $4,000,000,000 tax increase."

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Senate Republican leader, put it this way:

"The Truman administration is the crowd that is leading us into the ditch The administration is taking us right down the avenue of deficit spending and I don't know how we could go into the ditch any faster or deeper."

Caught 11 Years Late

A deputy sheriff's good memory in Sacramento Calif. ended 11 years of freedom yesterday for Mansfield reformatory fugitive, Robert E. Wallace, 32.

Wallace, formerly of Canton, was in the county road camp on a drunk driving sentence when a deputy remembered seeing his name on a circular distributed by Ohio authorities.

OSR officials here said Wallace escaped the Grafton honor camp on June 9, 1938. He was received from Stark county on Oct. 21, 1937 to serve one to 15 years for burglary and larceny

Reformatory officials here said they had not been notified of Wallace's capture, but that the fugitive would probably be returned after completing his traffic violation sentence in California.

Epidemic Source Sought

State Calls Water 'Bad'

Fifty-three persons are sick with an intestinal disease in County Club Allotment Number 3, where two children have already died of the infection, a check by city-county health officials revealed today.

Dr. Charles R. Freeble jr., chief of the Ohio Health department's communicable disease division said almost half of the 102 families in the allotment have had the diarrheal disease in the family the past three weeks

As many as eight cases in one family were reported. Almost a third of the population, 468, have had the gastro intestinal illness in the past three weeks.

State and local health department officials continued their search began yesterday for the cause of the disease. No one source has yet been found, but Dr. Freeble said it is probably caused by numerous contributing factors. The spread is due to the general lack of sanitation in the area, he said.

Local health officials took a two-page questionnaire to the 102 families in the area yesterday to discover how serious the outbreak is.

WATER 'TERRIBLE'

"The water situation is terrible", Dr. Freeble said. "All but a few of the wells the people use are polluted. Some that are not yet polluted will soon be, he added.

Another factor that spreads the disease is the great number of flies in the area.

Many of the residents do not dispose of their garbage correctly, but merely toss it out doors. "Bad privies" are another source of the unsanitary conditions, the survey showed.

Dr. Freeble described the district is "a substandard area with no sewage, no screen, and an inadequate water supply."

More than half the number of persons reported ill are under 10 years of age, Dr. Freeble said.

In many cases in the area one water well serves 25 or 30 families. The water is carried from

Reds Lift Truck Ban

BERLIN —(INS)— Sixty U. S. Army trucks rumbled across the Soviet zone towards Berlin today after being speedily approved by Russian guards at the Helmstedt checkpoint.

The unarmed American convoy, bearing food for the U. S. Berlin garrison, had been dispatched to test the extent of tor vehicle traffic.

Shortly before the Russian soldiers let 60 trucks through at 7:45 a. m. (1:45 a. m. EDT), a slowdown of German motor traffic from West Germany to Berlin was suddenly revoked

Officials were not certain whether the appearance of the large American convoy had anything to do with the Russian reversal.

But up until late last night, the Soviets had reduced German traffic to a four-trucks-per-hour tricle through Helmstedt, which is astride the British - Soviet zonal border. Unexpectedly, when the U. S. convoy arrived, the Russians stepped up the rate of passage to 16 German vehicles per hour which is about normal.

A two-mile line of German trucks had piled up at Helmstedt because of rigid inspection regulations and the closing down of all alternate border - crossing points.

Rejects UEW Wage Demand

NEW YORK — (AP) — The General Electric company has called for an end of wage talks with the CIO United Electrical Workers.

However, the union leaders want just a recess in the talks, until they have time to report back to their members.

The company said in a statement yesterday that to continue the talks might give both employes and the public a "false impression" that a wage boost is being considered.

G-E repeated its rejection of any wage demands.

A fourth - round wage boost, it said, would raise costs and prices, cut jobs and be detrimental to the employes, consumers and the company.

Wherry Seeks to Stick 'Rider' Into North Atlantic Pact

Would Block U. S. Arming Of Europe

Hendrickson Backs Alliance

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Senate Republican leader Wherry of Neb., introduced a "declaration of intent" rider to the Atlantic pact yesterday which would specifically withhold any United States obligation to rearm Europe

Unlike a "reservation," the "declaration of intent" would not have to be approved by other countries in the pact, but would simply stand as an explanation of U. S. intentions.

Wherry's rider would disclaim any U S responsibility for helping Europe rearm until there is an invasion by an invader, bringing into force the controversial "article five" which carries an obligation to join other nations in resisting aggression

A further provision in the Wherry declaration of intent would require also that U. S participation then would be subject to action by Congress

Sen Hendrickson (R) N J, warned the Senate in effect that it would prolong the "cold war" between Russia and the United States if it approves amendments to the North Atlantic pact.

Hendrickson, in a speech announcing he will vote for the twelve-nation alliance, said that if the pact is rimmed by reservations, "we shall encourage the potential aggressor to believe we are so uncertain an element he can pick off the democracies of Europe one by one"

Earlier, Sen Cain (R) Wash, hitherto counted as in the doubtfull" camp, announced that he will vote for the treaty.

Debate on the alliance picked up momentum in the wake of a clash Tuesday between Sens Dulles (R) N. Y, and Taft (R) Ohio on whether the pact binds the United States to arm Europe

Senate Minority Leader Wherry of Neb., took the floor to discourage a suggestion by Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., that the Senate agree to a final vote Friday

Wherry said there were still so many Republicans who want to speak it would be "useless to try" for a vote before Saturday or Monday

He added, however, that he would 'cooperate" in setting a voting time

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Windy Sure "Stopped The Show"!

The other night a bunch of us were over at Judge Cunningham's watching a swell vaudeville program on his new television set. It came in fine, but just once, the screen got a little streaky.

Before the Judge could touch the knob to bring it into focus, old Windy Taylor starts fooling around with the antenna connection "I can fix that!" he says.

Windy fixed it all right. He "stopped the show" for us, and Buzz Ellis had to come over and do a $20 repair job. I understand Windy feels so bad, that he's paying the bill and has apologized to the Judge for acting so smart.

From where I sit, it pays to practice a little restraint whenever we get the urge to meddle. Whether it's television or a person's right to enjoy a temperate glass of sparkling beer now and then—let's get a good clear "picture" of the real situation before we cause more harm than good.

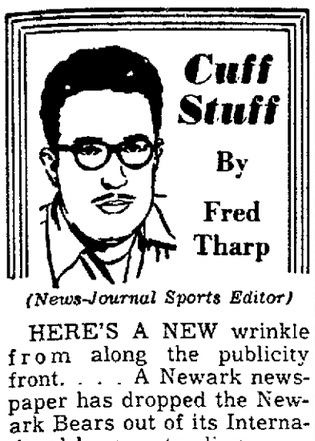
Five Mansfielders Win Ohio 'Am' Matches



Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

HERE'S A NEW wrinkle from along the publicity front. . . . A Newark newspaper has dropped the Newark Bears out of its International league standings. . . . All Newark contests are listed as exhibition games because the paper reasons the club is so-o-o-bad. . . . The Bears are about 20 games out of first place. . . . Little Phil "Scooter" Rizzuto is batting only .270 for the Yanks but leads the team in total hits. . . . Talking of hits, the Brooklyn Dodgers have eight regulars clubbing over .300. . . . There has been a lot of talk lately about the "rabbit" ball helping the baseball hitters. . . . Yet the record for total bases in one game was set back in 1894 by Bobby Lowe of the Boston Nationals. . . . In the second game of a double-header that year, Bobby smashed four homers and added a single. . . . A survey shows that there are 441,137 recreational motorboats 16 feet or longer on federal waterways in this country. . . . The Navy boasts a fellow named Calhoun Killeen who was quite a baseballer last spring at Annapolis. . . . In 19 games, Killeen clubbed the apple for a .449 batting mark and handled 148 chances at first base without an error.

GEORGE MIKAN, the long pro basketballer, takes his law examination in October but doesn't plan to quit the cage sport. . . . The 6-9, 265 pound giant averaged 28.7 points last season for the Minneapolis Lakers. . . . Willie Steele, the Olympic broad jump champion, is going to play pro football with the Los Angeles Rams. . . . This item qualifies as news since Willie never played football in college. . . . The 1948-49 bowling season produced 173 perfect games of 300. 111 bowlers missed the charmed circle by one pin and 82 had 298's.

TWENTY YEARS AGO Helen Meany held a string of 17 national diving championships and copped an Olympic first place. . . . Now as Mrs. H. J. Gravis she is rated as one of San Antonio's top women golfers. . . . California has produced 38 big league baseballers of today. . . . Pennsylvania is second with 29 while Illinois has 25. . . . Canada has three stars in the big leagues while Italy, Scotland and Czechoslovakia have one each. . . . Back in 1930, 35,450 fans watched Bobby Jones win the U. S. amateur golf championship.

Bob Regula will do the pitching tonight as Mansfield Gorman-Rupp attempts to pull its Ohio Major league record over the .500 mark in a game at Orrville.

Gorman-Rupp's over-all record is nine victories and six defeats.

Carpenter, Zediker Out Of Running

By CHARLEY STINE

Mansfield hung grimly onto five places today as the Ohio Amateur golf championship entered its fourth day at Westbrook Country club.

Only two Mansfielders fell out yesterday, but at least two more were sure to go today as Carl Wiseman and Al Hager were to meet in a morning match and Dale Rose and Pete Thoma in the afternoon. The latter match, of course, is on condition both win in the morning.

Hager was far off his game yesterday but edged past the smooth-firing Tom Jones of Youngstown, one up on the 18th hole. Carl Wiseman, Pete Thoma, Dale Rose, and Arnie Adams won their matches with little trouble.

The two Mansfielders who fell out yesterday were Bob Carpenter, who lost to Wiseman, and Gene Zediker, who bowed four and two to Mort Olman of Cincinnati. Zediker was two down at the turn and had a bogey and double bogey on the next seven holes.

Thoma had the toughest row to hoe in today's first match as he was set to fire against the scrambling Max McConnell of Coshocton, 1946 runner-up.

McConnell played even par yesterday—same as Thoma—in beating Bob Rankin of Zanesville, three and two. McConnell had four threes on his first nine holes.

TAKES OUT CHAMP

Dale Rose was to meet Tom Whiteway of Cleveland this morning while Arnie Adams was paired with Youngstown Public Linkster Vince Lekosky. Lekosky was one-under-par yesterday in eliminating Ed Preisler of Shaker Heights, three and two. Preisler was the 1946 champ.

Best medal score yesterday was the three-under 69 carded by Jack Fitzpatrick of Akron who beat Ollie Kay of Toledo, four and two.

Defending champion Harold Paddock kept plugging along as the man to beat, turning in a two-and-one triumph over National Caddy Champion Chick Hendricksen. He meets Allen Whaling of Cincinnati today.

Hager was even going into the ninth hole but missed a two-foot putt for a bogey and fell one down. He failed to get it back until the 15th hole, where he sank a 12-foot putt for his first birdie of the day. He and Jones had halved the previous five holes, four of them on pars and one on a bogey.

Both parred the 16th but Jones three-outted the par three 17th when his first putt fell about five feet short. Al was down in regulation figures and then both bogied the last hole to end the match.

SHORT APPROACH

Jones had a good chance to tie it up as he was only about three feet off the green in two but his approach was far short and he two-putted. Hager's second shot was in the rough but his third was on the green in good shape for the five.

Wiseman eliminated Carpenter, three and one, while shooting eight over par for the 17 holes played. Carpenter won three holes and halved two out of the first five but Wiseman came back to take the last three on the first nine to even the match.

Thoma had the hottest round of any Mansfielder with a par 72 while taking out Chick Evans of Urbana three and two. He was well under par all the way and had a four-up lead as the match made the ninth hole turn. From there he played safe most of the way but won the match easily.

Dale Rose also got off to a fine start but had plenty of trouble on the back nine. Rose turned the first half in par figures and led Don Vitangeli of Canton by five holes at the turn.

The public linkster then rallied to win three straight holes.

Adams took out Public Linkster Tom Simon of Toledo, two and one, in a match that was close all the way.

Richland Pin League Slates Picnic Party

The Tuesday Night Mixed Doubles Bowling league will end its summer season with a picnic party July 9.

Five trophies and 28 special awards will be given at the picnic. A large trophy will be presented to the winner of a match between the Tuesday and Wednesday night leagues which roll at the Richland Recreation

GOOD PITCH—Mansfield's Arnie Adams pitched to within two feet of the pin on this shot on the 17th hole yesterday and then holed out with a par three. The par tied Tom Simon of Toledo and gave Arnie the match, two and one, to make him one of the surviving 32 men in the Ohio Amateur golf tournament at Westbrook Country club.

Chunky Pete Thoma Now Getting Wide Following

They're beginning to take notice of that sawed-off tobacco-chewer from Coolridge—Pete Thoma—in the Ohio Amateur tournament.

Thoma was a popular favorite among the Mansfield gallery in from the start but was unknown to a majority of the competitors. Yesterday, however, he was the talk of the course as his long belts carried him two strokes under par for the first nine holes.

It wasn't the card particularly that made Pete the center of attention. It was the swash-buckling way he was banging away under pressure. He started off with a birdie, missed another when the ball hung on the lip and then had a bogey five. On the fourth hole, Pete was behind two trees but shot a par.

The fifth was really his best. On the par five hole he lay sideways on a steep roll and about two feet back in three. His opponent, Chick Evans, laid four and about the same distance out down the hill.

Pete picked up Evans' ball and tossed it to him, then proceeded to play his own about 12 inches up the hill and let it roll back into the cup.

One of the finest and most heart-breaking shots yesterday was pulled by Max McConnell of Coshocton, Thoma's opponent today.

McConnell had Bob Rankin of Zanesville three down with four to go when Rankin canned a beautiful 35-foot putt for a birdie on the 15th. McConnell, about 20 feet back, rammed his home also and for all practical purposes the match was over.

Thoma and Vince Leskosky of Youngstown are the only Public Links golfers left in the joust and both may prove tough cookies to beat. Leskosky had five one-putt greens on the first nine holes yesterday in eliminating 1946 champion Ed Preisler. Leskosky plays Arnie Adams today.

Al Hager and Carl Wiseman who were to battle this morning have met only once before in an official match. That was for the club championship in 1947 when Wiseman won 1 up in 37 holes.

Hager had Wiseman five down with 11 to go that day when Carl started to come back.

Deibel gave Tom his first pro job in Youngstown 25 years ago and Bellino caddied for him frequently during the same period.

Sport Center Team Defeated For 1st Time

The Printzess softball team last night handed Ohio Sport Center its first defeat of the season, 15 to 13, in a Girls' league game at Gorman-Rupp field.

Sport Center had won three straight while Printzess has now won three and lost two. A seven-run burst in the fourth brought Printzess from behind and gave it the victory margin. Bemiller homered for the winners.

In the other game, Prospect park had a "track meet" in whopping Spudnuts, 40 to 11, at John Todd park. Nancy Hoff led the 39-hit Prospect attack with "6 for 6".

Shock Favored

LOS ANGELES —(UP)— Donald Shock, a red-headed college student from Dayton, O., emerged as a top favorite to win the National public links golf tournament last night by defeating Dante C. Vicini of Ottawa, Ill., 1 up, in the fourth round of play.

Bader Hurls Penn Team To Victory

Dutch Bader pitched Mansfield Penn Auto-Sporting Goods to a 10-to-1 victory over the Huron Jays last night in Huron.

Bader gave up only three hits and his mates rocked three Huron pitchers for 17. Tick Hamilton was the hitting star with home run, double and two singles, driving in five runs. Penn plays the Shelby Blues at 5 p. m. tomorrow at Blue Goose. Either Don Hardy or Jack Hammett will pitch for the Autos.

Pilots Pick Own Clubs As Winners

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major league pennant races are going to wind up in two triple ties for first place.

At least that's the conclusion one draws after comment from Casey Stengel, Burt Shotton, Joe McCarthy, Connie Mack and other optimistic pilots.

The latest and most surprising skipper to look into the future through rose colored glasses is Joe McCarthy, the usually reticent leader of the Boston Red Sox.

Although weighted down in fourth place, eight and a half games off the pace at the halfway mark, McCarthy insisted that his club "from here in is the team to beat" in the American league race.

"We'll be there or thereabouts at the finish," he said. "Everything has been breaking just right for the Yankees."

The Red Sox really are moving now. They've won seven in a row and are only a game and a half behind the third place Philadelphia Athletics.

NO OPINION SHARE

Casey Stengel, who has done such an amazing job with the front-running New York Yankees, does not share McCarthy's opinion.

"I had been inclined to think that the Red Sox would provide us with the toughest competition," Stengel said. "I felt that way even when they languished in the second division. But when we knocked them off five times in a row recently, that finished them. I don't think they can recover."

A week ago Stengel picked the Athletics as the only team that could stop his Yankees, who currently hold a five and a half game bulge over the second place Cleveland Indians. At the time, the A's were in second place, only four and a half behind.

"If we can beat the A's more times than they beat us, we're in," Stengel said. "If not, it probably will be the A's."

Whereupon the Yankees knocked off the Mackmen in a solo contest, and started them on their way to a five-game losing streak.

Connie Mack, Philadelphia's 86-year-old manager, is not discouraged, however.

"Our boys, although in third place today, feel they still can win and I, as their manager, have to go along with them, naturally," he said. "Don't count us out. We still have a good chance."

NOT EASY WIN

Cleveland's Lou Boudreau didn't talk much but grinned knowingly when asked whether he thought he would repeat.

"We're still the champions," he said. "It's up to the others to beat us. And it's not going to be easy. I promise you that."

But Shotton, grizzled Brooklyn manager, still insists, as he has all season long, that his Dodgers are going to win the National league flag. In this he has the backing of his boss, Branch Rickey. Currently, the Dodgers hold a half-game edge on the St. Louis Cardinals, who have won 35 of their last 50 games.

Redbirds Leader Eddie Dyer thinks his team is at least 15 per cent improved with the addition of Pitchers Max Lanier and Fred Martin and Infielder Lou Klein.

Dyer and Billy Southworth, manager of the third place Boston Braves envisioned a stretch drive that would not produce a winner until the final day.

McMullen and Faught Pace Bowling League

Mary McMullen and E. Faught last night paced the Wednesday night mixed doubles bowling league with a 335-314-346—995 at the Richland alleys.

McMullen led the women with 149-194-194—537 while Bud Traxler topped the men with 197-181-192—570. Sally Foster and Don Dancer are in first place with 15 wins and three losses.

Indians Open Long Home Stand Tonight

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Cleveland's Indians get down to business tonight in a home stand which probably will set a new value on their pennant chances.

The Tribemen will tackle the Philadelphia Athletics, the first of four eastern teams scheduled to invade the wigwam. Boston, New York and Washington, all in the first division except the Senators, will follow.

Although the Indians have played heads-up ball during most of the past month, winning 20 and losing only eight, they have gained only a game and a half on the front-running New York Yankees.

A month ago, the Tribe trailed in sixth place, seven games behind the Yanks and had an even .500 average. Today, the club is five and a half games off the pace and has a .579 average.

Ray Poat shut out the champions on three hits last night as the Pittsburgh Pirates won a 1 to 0 verdict in an exhibition match. The 33,470 spectators poured in $30,452 that will go to the Cleveland Community Chest.

The game marked the first appearance here this year of Don Black, Cleveland hurler who almost died last season after suffering a brain hemorrhage.

Black, who was charged with the loss, pitched the first two innings, allowing two doubles and a single and walking four men.

"When you stop to consider everything, Don did a great job," Tribe Prexy Bill Veeck commented afterwards. "They didn't get a single good hit."

ONE IN SECOND

Pittsburgh's marker came in the second inning, after a double play with the bases loaded ended their scoring threat in the first frame.

Monty Basgall walked, Stan Rojek doubled and an intentional pass to Ed Fitzgerald filled the sacks. The Tribe then made another double play, but a single by Pete Castiglione brought in Rojek.

Four Cleveland hurlers, Sam Zoldak, Al Benton, Satchel Paige and Steve Gromek, paraded to the mound during the rest of the game. Despite the variety, however, the Pirates got only three more hits.

Dale Mitchell was the only Indian to get a hit off Poat in the first seven frames. He lined a single to center in the fourth, but was out trying to steal.

Ken Keltner, out of action for the past two weeks because of a charley horse in his left leg, tried out the limb last night and found it somewhat stiff. He is expected to remain sidelined for several days.

Galion Golfers Defeat Bucyrus Team Easily

GALION — The Galion golf team defeated Bucyrus yesterday in a match at the Galion Country club, 27½ to 11½.

Medalists were Jack Stotter, Bucyrus, and Jim Fenton, Galion, both with 71; Charles Metzger, Galion, 78; Bill MacAdam and Bob Metzer, Galion, both with 80.

Young Golfer Gets To Semis In 'Am' Meet

TOLEDO — (AP) — Brown-eyed Barbara McIntire established herself today as the first girl to get as far as the semi-finals of the Ohio Women's golf tournament before matriculating in high school.

Barbara met Claire Doran, Cleveland city champion, and neither was expected to reach that point. In Barbara's case, there was scarcely any element of chance as it turned out.

Eliminating Jean Hopkins of Cleveland yesterday, she was four-up at the end of nine holes and even par at the close of the match on the 15th green. She won, 5 and 3.

All this should make interesting listening among the first year students at Toledo Libby high school, where Barbara will enter in September. She's only 14 years old.

Miss Doran had a little more trouble. She eliminated Carol Diringer of Tiffin Mohawk country club, tournament medalist and runner-up in last year's championship, at the end of 20 holes.

In the other semi-final match today, Peggy Kirk, the defending champion, of Findlay, plays Pat Harrington of Steubenville.

Miss Kirk, out for her third consecutive Ohio title, had a two-up lead over Mrs. Robert Palmer, Columbus district champion, and a par 39 at the end of nine holes. Her margin was 4 and 3.

Miss Harrington defeated Bonnie Randolph, Ohio State university player, on the 20th hole.

Shoots An Ace

CANTON — (AP) — Canton district's 14th hole-in-one of the 1949 season was reported Tuesday. Bob Smith, Canton, aced the par three, 182-yard 12th hole at highland — the second time that same hole has been victimized this year.

60 Tandems Entered In Golf Joust

Entry list in the first best-ball tournament of the Mansfield Athletic commission climbed to 60 teams today.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Two Injured In Mishap

Scaffold Falls From Building

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Two Lima workmen were injured and splashed with acid yesterday when a scaffold tore loose from the building they were cleaning, hurling them two-and-a-half stories to the pavement.

James Pentz, 31, was taken to St. Francis hospital, where attendants said he was in serious condition with a cut on the head and acid burns on the body.

The men were scrubbing the walls of a three-story apartment building in downtown Columbus. The scaffold on which they were standing abreast of the third-floor windows pulled loose from the cornice of the building, throwing the workers and a large bottle of cleaning acid to the sidewalk.

About 30 feet of brick from the front of the building crumbled and fell on top of the injured men.

Says No Pact Being Studied

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Secretary of State Acheson declared yesterday that no Pacific alliance is under consideration by the United States at the present time.

Acheson told his news conference that neither Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek nor President Quirino of the Philippines have consulted him about their proposal for such an alliance to stop the spread of communism in the Far East.

The cabinet officer said that his position remains the same as it was on May 18 when he declared that no Pacific pact is under consideration although the United States is sympathetic to all regional arrangements of friendly powers for their self defense.

One Dead In C-82 Crash

DAYTON —(AP)— At least one person was killed today in the crash of a twin-engine "Flying Boxcar" here, Wright-Patterson airforce base officials reported.

They said from "three to six" persons were injured.

The Army cargo plane crashed into a parking lot fence at the Army field as it was making an emergency landing because of a fire aboard, Army officials reported.

The plane struck from 12 to 20 automobiles parked along the fence, "flattening them and setting them afire," field officers said.

Officers at the public relations office of the Army base said they understood the brakes on the plane failed as it was making the landing.

Identity of the plane crew members was not available immediately. The injured were reported removed to the Army hospital at the field.

The game of auction bridge originated in India.

Ohio House Fails to Ram Through State Budget Measure

Muny Court Bill Back In Senate

Money Shortage Hits Pensioners

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — House leaders bid for agreement today on a state budget to prevent further delay in old age pension payments.

They failed Wednesday night to ram through approval of Senate changes in the record-high $646,922,744 budget. The state ran out of spending money June 30. Enactment of the budget will release money to run the state for two years starting July 1.

Rep. A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont) urged final passage of the budget without sending it to conference committee to adjust Senate-House differences. He is House majority leader.

Minority leader C. William O'Neill (R-Washington) asked time to study Senate changes. They were approved in the upper chamber a few hours earlier. He said final approval wouldn't release pension checks today.

The House put over action until late today. Approval without resort to a conference committee will send the budget to the governor for signing. His signature will release pension checks, permit the state to meet payrolls and pay its bills.

Pension checks to well over half Ohio's 125,000 old pensioners are delayed. Some pensioners report genuine hardship as a result.

Activity grew intense as legislators rushed to compiete work Friday so they can end the session July 29. The House posted 17 bills for action today and the Senate 13.

Senate Republicans failed in attempts to slash $7,000,000 from the budget.

Representatives passed 99-2 a Senate-approved bill to put all municipal courts under a single uniform law. The measure creates 11 new courts in Ashland, Delaware, Greenville, Lancaster, Mt. Vernon, Washington court House, Sidney, Coshocton, Euclid Garfield Heights and Bellevue.

A proposed court in Cambridge was eliminated at the request of Rep. Thurman R. Hazard (D-Guernsey).

The bill eliminated Coal Grove from jurisdiction of Ironton municipal court. Dayton municipal court gets a fourth judge. The measure goes back to the Senate for approval of House revisions."

Sabotage Ruled Out

BOMBAY — (INS) — Indian civil aviation authorities said yesterday that there is "absolutely no ground" for suspicion of sabotage in connection with Wednesdays Royal Dutch Air Lines Constellation crash which claimed the lives of 14 Americans.

Thirteen top flight American newsmen were among the victims.

Such a suspicion originally was attributed to Mrs. Dorothy Brandon of the New York Herald Tribune, one of a group of noted correspondents who flew to the Dutch East Indies to investigate the revolutionary situation there.

The official statement was made as several American news correspondents began the grim task of identifying the bodies of their colleagues who died in India's worst aviation disaster.

2 Bound Over In Edger Theft

BUCYRUS — A New Washington man, Donald E. Adkins, 26, was being held in Crawford county jail here in connection with the theft of a $145 floor edger from Lamb's store here last Friday, Sheriff Ralph Schreck reported today.

Police arrested Ike Eggleston, 42, Bucyrus, last Saturday for the machine's theft after Adkins had informed Sheriff Schreck he had purchased the edger from Eggelston for $3. Adkins told the sheriff that he though the machine might have been stolen because it was worth much more than $3.

Both Adkins and Eggelston have been bound over to the grand jury on grand larceny charges. Both were unable to furnish bond of $1,000.

Ditch Slated For Cleanup

County commissioners yesterday approved assessments set up for improvement of the Paramor ditch tributary in Sandusky and Sharon townships.

Assessments for property owners total $2,890, which is the estimated cost of the work. Commissioners set Sept. 3 as the time for receiving bids for the work.

Sharon townships is to pay for tile required for a road and the county for new structures. The work calls for straightening, deepening and cleaning out of the one-mile long ditch.

The section of the ditch west of the Horning road will be shifted to east of that road, requiring a new culvert under the Hook road nearby, Todd Patton, ditch supervisor said.

Three Actions Filed In Court

A suit for $1,800 and an action to quiet title were filed today in common pleas court.

Thomas and Gertrude Baker, of 441 Tracy street, filed an action to have their title quieted on a three foot strip of land at the southern section of their property, which is part of outlot 242 in Mansfield.

They also asked for permanent injunction to prevent trespassing on the property or to remove a fence that runs along there. A temporary restraining order was issued by the court.

The owners of adjacent properties who were named defendants in the action include Clifton C. Laser and Guy S. Walker, of 281 Wood street, Russell R. Shoup, 472 McPherson street, and Richard and Margaret Warrington, 464 McPherson street.

The plaintiffs are represented by Attorney William A. Calhoun.

In another action, R. Lavern Henry and Robert L. Henry doing business as the R. L. Henry Lumber company sued E. W. and Mildred B. Duncan, Bowman street road, for $1,824 as due for building materials. Attorney C. F. Creedman represents the Henrys.

John M. Richardson, of Geddes avenue and Trimble road, has filed a corss-petition against M. P. Teter, of Lexington asking for $4,370, resulting from the partnership the two men had in clearing the Clear Fork dam area.

Teter had sued Richardson for $7,177. Richardson is represented by George V. Sauter.

City Would Get 2 TV Channels

If proposals of the Federal Communications commission are approved following public hearing August 29, Mansfield will be assigned two ultra high frequency television broadcasting channels, the Associated Press reported from Washington today.

Mansfield would be assigned channels number 21 and 23. A total of 42 new television channels would be added to the existing 12, making possible the establishing of approximately, 1,700 new stations in 1,200 towns.

the well to the homes in buckets.

Many of these wells are located just a few feet from outdoor toilets. And some of the people are using water that overflows from Westbrook Country club's golf course lake.

A four point program will be used in an attempt to bring the situation under control, Dr. Freeble said.

First, DDT will be sprayed in the homes in the area. The local health department will enforce sanitary regulations that are now in existence. The water supply wells will be checked. Those that are contaminated will be closed.

The residents of the area will be taught how to practice good personal hygiene.

Dr. Freeble also pointed out that a long range program should be started in the area. He said it was not solely a health department problem, but a community problem.

"As long as these conditions exist out there, there will be a chance of new outbreaks."

Dr. Freeble pointed out that his department worked only in a consultative capacity and that the local health department did and will do a major portion of the work involved.

Princess Blithely Displays Panties In Can-Can Dance

LONDON — (INS) — Fun-loving Princess Margaret Rose is reported today to have displayed a trim pair of black silk-clad legs and frilly lace pants in a high-stepping can-can at a U. S. embassy party.

The London Daily Express reported that Margaret was joined by Sharman Douglas, daughter of the American ambassador, and ten other young London post-debutantes in the high-kicking French dance.

The dance, traditionally associated with Paris night life, was an added starter at the party given in honor of popular Sharman, who is a close friend of Margaret's. The newspaper said the dance was so successful that the 12 girls gave an encore.

The Express said that just before the professional entertainment was to begin, the Princess, Sharman and their friends slipped away and changed into fluffy black silk dresses, sheer black hose, frilly black underpants and elaborately plumed hats.

Thus attired they danced back into the room to the bouncy rhythm of can-can music, while 250 guests at the party cheered and applauded

Farm Blaze Near Galion Levels Barn

"Hap" Clark Away At Time of Fire

GALION — Fire destroyed the barn and several small buildings on the D. H. "Hap" Clark farm yesterday afternoon.

Passing motorists noticed smoke issuing forth from the structure at 5:35 p. m. The Galion Fire department responded but were unable to do more than protect surrounding buildings.

The farm is operated by Clark, who accompanied by his wife was in the southern part of the state, at the time of the fire. Exact contents were not known pending Mr. Clark's arrival. Clark is a representative of the Gledhill Road Machinery company, here.

New hay, straw and wheat, as well as a rubber tired wagon, and other farm implements were believed to have been destroyed in the blaze.

The farm is located 2½ miles west of her on the Dice road. Glen A. Cozad resides in the house on the farm. Clark lives in Galion.

Acting Fire Chief John Durtschi conducted an investigation to determine the cause of the fire and estimated the damages this morning. Cozad owned a small trailer also lost in the fire.

Pope's Act Angers Reds

Holy See Takes Historic Action

VATICAN CITY —(INS)— Pope Pius' sweeping excommunication of Catholic communists pointed up today a bitter, heightening no - compromise struggle between the Vatican and the Kremlin.

Throughout Catholic Europe, the pontiff's unprecedented action reinforced the intensity of the battle between the Holy See and the communist parties behind and outside the iron curtain.

Communists reacted sharply to the order, which came at the height of a drive to gain the support of Catholic elements in France. The French communist organ L'Humanite termed the excommunication decree "purest totalitarianism," adding:

"It will fail to break the ever closer union between believers and non - believers, particularly in our country."

The historic move, without equal in church history, deprives Catholics who teach, advocate, or support communism of church benefits and prevents them from receiving the sacraments and the rites of the church.

Mansfielders Will Attend Session

Fire Run Brings Warning Against Burning of Trash

A fire run by No. 4 station men to the Rocky Fork creek off Orange street last night where rubbish was burning on a bank, brought a warning from City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch today to all persons burning trash in the city.

The creek, which gives off offensive odors throughout the northeast section of the city, carries off much of the industrial refuse plus garbage and rubbish dumped into the creek by city residents.

Section 90 of the city ordinance states that no person shall burn any refuse of any kind that gives off offensive odors or smoke on any street or alley in the city or within 100 feet of any dwelling or place of business.

Violators of this law may be fined $100 and costs or imprisoned for 90 days or both.

Tax Collector Has Big Day

A total of $40,782 in Richland county real estate taxes was collected yesterday, the highest collection for a single day. However, Treasurer Charles C. Payne says the over - all collection "hasn't been too good." The total is $577,524.

A year ago on this day, he had collected $658,704. He pointed out that this year's tax charge amounts to approximately $142,000 more than he had to collect last year.

The total tax charge of $1,154,933 is due by 4 p. m. July 20, deadline for paying without penalty.

Claim Seizure Only Way To Halt Strike

HONOLULU, T. H. —(UP)— A 20-man legislative holdover committee was in recess today until Tuesday after tentatively agreeing that seizure of Hawaii's docks was the only solution to a 75-day strike of CIO longshoremen.

Sen. William Heen, chairman of the committee, said he probably would ask Gov. Ingram Stainback to call an emergency session of the territorial legislature within two or three days after the committee reconvenes.

Fund Transfer Receives OK

County commissioners have authorized transfer of $300 from the Veterans Housing Fund to the General Fund. The transfer was made because 25 of the $300 a month salary paid the commissioners' clerk, P. S. Carroll, comes out of the housing fund.

He is paid that for collecting rents and taking care of the various details of the county's trailer housing project. The transfer is for a six-month period.

Commissioners also authorized transfer of $300 from the prosecutor's compensation of employes fund to his stationery and supplies fund, at his request.

GOP Seeking To Oust Scott

WASHINGTON — (UP) — A shake - up within the Republican national committee was just around the corner today as leaders sought a face-saving method of ousting Chairman Hugh D. Scott jr.

Scott's friends said he would not permit himself to be forced out of the party job. They said he probably would be willing to resign after a reasonable time if a satisfactory successor were agreed upon.

Some of Scott's opponents considered the ouster more urgent. But there appeared to be a general feeling that a graceful way out should be found for Scott if he must go.

LUCKIES ARE A FINER CIGARETTE!

Constant research at Lucky Strike's famous cigarette laboratory—America's largest and most completely equipped—is devoted to giving you a finer cigarette!

THERE is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike. Here's why: Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And every step in the making of Luckies—from before this fine tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the watchful eye of the largest and most completely equipped cigarette research laboratory in America.

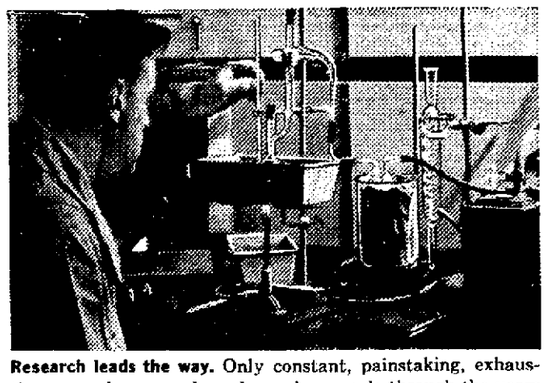
For many years, the famous Lucky Strike laboratory in Richmond, Virginia, has been a center of cigarette science and technology. In this remarkable building you can see a fascinating collection of scientific instruments — microscopes, spectrophotometers, balances, projectors, humidification chambers, and many other complicated and costly machines.

Working with this array of scientific equipment are more than 60 highly trained specialists—chemists, biologists, engineers, physicists. They work on tobacco, on finished cigarettes, on paper, foil, cellophane and even printing inks. For Lucky Strike scientists have for years delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale.

Today, because of the miracle of modern science, Lucky Strike is a finer cigarette.

Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase. These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine, light and mild. No wonder Luckies are a finer cigarette.

Luckies stay fresh. After Lucky Strike cigarettes have been packaged, they must be tightly sealed to remain fresh. Here you see the cellophane seal being tested for air-tightness. Such instruments are in constant use at every plant.



Research leads the way. Only constant, painstaking, exhaustive research—as conducted on a large scale through the years by The American Tobacco Company—could produce the scientific knowledge that results in the quality of Luckies.

We know:

Voices Raised Against Waste

AMONG the virtues correctly ascribed to our pioneer ancestors economy stands high. It still motivates the spending of the people who are known as the "backbone of the country." This fact has recently been brought to the notice of members of Congress.

To a Chicago committee organized for the purpose of backing the Hoover report, Robert E. Johnson, president of Temple University, who worked with the Hoover Commission, said that "the voices of Americans protesting against government waste are being heard as they have never been heard before." Washington is flooded with mail advocating government economy, and the topic is being discussed all over the country, according to Mr. Johnson.

Reforms in government methods are brought about when the people want them badly enough to make their wants known. It is often said, with much truth, that people have as good a government as they deserve. Certainly that saying applies to the matter of government efficiency and economy.

Crash Ends Unscheduled Flight

STANDING OUT prominently in the story of that airplane catastrophe in California Tuesday, in which at least 30 persons were killed and others seriously injured, is the statement that this was a nonscheduled flight by a company which the Civil Aeronautics Board had ordered to "wind up its business" by July 20, after its license had been revoked for charged frequent violation of regulations.

If, as it appears, this company could not be trusted to conform to regulations—which would mean added danger to passengers—it may be wondered why any allowance of time was given before requiring suspension of operations, as it was during this period that the fatal crash occurred.

Coming so quickly after the air catastrophe near Bombay, India, in which more than a dozen American newspaper men were among the 45 killed, the California disaster goes further in stressing the dangers of air travel—dangers that should be reduced to the lowest possible minimum if this speedy means of transportation is to gain public acceptance for other than emergency use.

Considering the School Board

INTEREST is growing in the campaign for membership on the Mansfield board of education. Three vacancies occur this year on this highly important board. One member has filed for re-nomination while two others, Harold W. Arlin and A. H. Fankhouser, have indicated they will not run again.

Several competent and well-known Mansfielders have either already filed or are known to be circulating petitions. This is as it should be. The very highest-caliber citizens are needed on this board which controls the destinies of public education in the city.

Three members, of course, constitute a majority and selection of level-headed, forward-looking men or women is vital to the continued growth of a progressive school system.

Ohio To Retain Death Penalty

AT LEAST for awhile longer it appears that Ohio is to retain the death penalty as a means of exterminating any person who is convicted of premeditated murder.

There has been talk of submitting this question to a vote of the people, but this has apparently been dropped for the present, and opportunity will be given for further thought on the subject.

A couple of months ago the lower house of the state legislature passed a bill designed to abolish capital punishment, but, as was predicted at the time, the state senate failed to follow that lead and the bill was held up in the judiciary committee.

Then came a move to submit the proposal to a vote next November as a constitutional amendment, but this failed to gain legislative sanction, and murder plans will continue to be more safely carried through in Michigan than in Ohio, for that state has no more severe penalty than life imprisonment for even the most atrocious crimes.

At Least Thirty Moons

HOW MANY moons are there? Most of the inhabitants of the earth are blissfully unaware of the existence of more than the one they can see every month. It seems, however, that there are at least thirty in the solar system, of which the latest has just been discovered by Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper, an astronomer of the University of Chicago. It is a satellite of the planet Neptune.

The moon gives so much pleasure to people looking for its rising and watching it through its various stages of growth and decline, that the wonder arises what life must be like to inhabitants, if any, of the planet Jupiter. Jupiter has no less than eight moons. What a complicated sky that must create!

Said Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, on hearing Britain would cut dollar buying: "What they ought to do over there is cut the waste out of their government like we are having to do over here." To just what waste cutting do you refer, Senator?

A pre-election poll proved accurate in the Canadian elections. It is now rumored that an American pollster has been seen on the streets of his home town again.

Claude Callan has noticed: "Those who beg from the government feel superior to those who beg from door to door."

What Some Other People Are Saying

SEN. JOHN FOSTER DULLES (R.-N. Y.): "We believed the American people could be trusted with the truth and they would see that the North Atlantic treaty and European Recovery Program could not now be abandoned without consequences of the gravest character."

* * *

PRESIDENT HARRY S. TRUMAN: "The basic steel industry occupies a strategic and vital position in the economy of the nation. A cessation of work and operations in that industry would have grave consequences and would interfere with the attainment of our national objectives."

* * *

Philippine President ELPIDIO QUIRINO: "The Philippines and China did not bother the U. S. because it is the intention of these Far Eastern countries to organize themselves with whatever resources they have to stop communism."

Looks Pretty High, Under the Circumstances.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

WHEN the Democrats organized the 81st Congress, their first move was a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. They asserted loudly a mandate for immediate repeal, although a majority of the senators and congressmen who voted in 1947 to override the President were re-elected by the people in 1948.

Under violent pressure from labor union officials, the administration attempted to repeal the Act without hearings, and the committee reported the repeal bill without even offering an opportunity for amendments. The labor union officials rejected every idea of a compromise and demanded complete repeal or nothing. This had been their propaganda line. They could not afford to discuss details, because most of the features of the Taft-Hartley Act met the definite approval of more than a majority of union members.

Fearful of the result, the administration delayed the bill for months after the committee report. Senator Smith, Senator Donnell and I considered all the complaints against the Act.

Then, instead of repeal, we offered a series of amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act, correcting many features against which labor had publicly complained, but retaining the basic principles of equality between employers and unions, of free collective bargaining, and of legal responsibility on unions and their officials equal to the vast power which union officials have acquired.

We offered 28 amendments and corrections to the Taft-Hartley law, all but two in the interest of labor and in answer to their requests.

After a bitter fight on the Senate floor for four weeks, the Senate adopted our amendments by a vote of 49 to 44. Instead of repealing the Taft-Hartley bill, they amended it to remove every legitimate complaint.

* * *

AT ONCE, we were denounced by union leaders, and every senator who voted for amendments in the interest of labor was threatened with political extinction by William Green, Philip Murray and A. F. Whitney.

Mr. Green sent his imperious orders direct to the Senate and Senator Lucas had them read to the Senate by the clerk. It is now said that under orders from these officials, the Democratic party will suppress the bill in the House or, if passed there, the President will veto it.

This would be a complete denial of democratic legislative principles. We can only maintain a republic in this country if legislative proposals are considered on their merits. No group or class can be permitted to enjoy the special privilege of dictating to Congress unless we want to abandon liberty and adopt fascism as our way of life.

In effect these officials are saying: "We would rather have the Taft-Hartley Act in force so we can continue our 'slave-labor' propaganda, instead of having it improved in the interest of labor."

They must have exactly the power and privilege they seek without modification or they will purge every congressman who refuses to obey their orders. Fortunately, the American people have enough common sense to realize that the position now taken by the labor leaders is pure prejudice and not reason, so that the propaganda purge is bound to backfire.

I only wish that some of the union officials who shout so loudly for outright repeal would read the letters I get from the rank and file members of labor unions who support the law. They are particularly interested in the protection against unfair action by their own leaders, against strikes called without reasonable notice, against time wasted and pay lost in jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts. They are in favor of financial reports and non-communist oaths and many other provisions.

* * *

WHAT the union officials are interested in is their own power. They don't talk much about the closed shop and the secondary boycott, because they know they are not very popular. Wise labor leaders have never found these weapons necessary.

The closed shop has been forbidden under the Railroad Mediation Act for years. Brandeis, Frankfurter and Franklin D. Roosevelt denounced it as contrary to American ideals. Few men are willing to defend openly the secondary boycott.

Repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act would have restored one-sided special privileges conferred on union officials by the Wagner Act and other laws. It would have made unions and their officials again utterly irresponsible for arbitrary damage which they may cause. It would have given them the power to dominate their own members, to ride high over the public interest and to become the bosses of Congress and of the United States.

The Songs of Israel.

Down through the centuries it has been the custom of nations to give voice in song to their deeds and aspirations, their triumphs and defeats. And so there exists today a vast collection of this very special kind of music, much of it so simple yet inspirational as to give it universal appeal.

It comes then as no surprise that the fledgling State of Israel, created by a people in whom the love of music runs deep, should already have produced out of its most recent struggles an impressive anthology of songs and melodies.—Detroit News.

Frankly Speaking

Nation Holds Its Breath

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Once more in a deeply serious moment of its history the nation holds its breath as two giants, the steel workers and the steel industry, get braced for struggle.

Turn back the pages of the history book a moment . . .

It was a cold, gray, snowy day, the striking steelworkers set up their picket lines and began their endless, slow, shuffling, circling around.

They had built small fires near their line of march around the gates of the steel mills at Pittsburgh. Every once in a while a picket dropped out of line to warm his hands and bones by a fire.

The day was Jan. 21, 1946. It was the first day, the start, of the big postwar steel strike. I was there and saw it begin. The whole nation was watching.

At the time, I wrote that this might be the start of a tragic charter in American history, for America at that moment was trying to reconvert to peace.

Steel was then, and is now, the heart and backbone of the American economy. Steel was basic, it was needed everywhere to get the country going on the high road to great peacetime prosperity.

But a steel strike, if it lasted long, could push the whole economy into a stumbling, staggering downhill gait and for a very simple reason that anyone could understand:

* * *

Would Idle Millions.

SINCE steel was basis in all kinds of industries — building, autos, washing machines, any number of industries — they'd have to shut down for lack of steel if the strike was long.

And that would have meant spreading unemployment at a time when it was vital for the country to get people into jobs, to swing over smoothly from war to peace.

In short, a long steel strike would have crushed recovery in a thousand ways.

The strike lasted a month, not long enough to throw the whole country out of whack. The men went back into the mills and American prosperity began its climb to the highest peak in history.

Now, once more, the nation is faced with a giant steel strike and once more the danger comes at moment which might be critical, for now the American economy has begun to slide down hill.

Only three days ago President Truman and his Council of Economic Advisers reported that the economy is slipping, that unemployment has increased to around 4,000,000 or double what it was a year ago.

Further, the economists look for things to get worse before they get better. They seem to think they will get better if—

There's more business investment, more business expansion, more employment, which means more people with money to spend.

But a steel strike, coming at such a serious time, would have just the opposite effect.

The strikers alone would mean about another 1,000,000 unemployed. If the strike comes, and lasts long, thousands upon thousands of other men will be thrown into idleness when their companies, which depend on steel, shut down because they can't get it.

If this should happen soon, or in the next couple of months, there's no telling what damage might be done the nation.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

U. S. To Form Ring Around Red China

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Six state department stenographers were kept busy last week retyping and toning down the American white paper on China. Hastily censored, out were allegations labelling certain relatives of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek as crooks.

Inside reason for these sudden changes was a long and continuing argument between Secretary of State Acheson and Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson. For three months Johnson had been building a bonfire under the state department urging it to support Kiang Kai-Shek's kuomintang.

Johnson is a personal friend and former attorney for Dr. H. H. Kung, brother-in-law of the generalissimo and reputedly one of the world's wealthiest men.

At cabinet meetings, at super-secret meetings of the national security council, Johnson constantly, continually needled Acheson.

For a long time there was no result. In fact, when Acheson returned from the Paris conference the other day he ordered his staff to work out a new blueprint for American-Chinese relations which was to be strongly anti-Chiang.

* * *

Acheson Outvoted.

THAT blueprint was placed before the national security council last week. After a vigorous debate the vote went against Acheson —about 5 to 1. Those voting No were Johnson, the treasury department, and heads of the armed services. They favored continued support for Chiang Kai - Shek's regime no matter how graft-ridden.

Swinging the decision against Acheson were two factors:

1. A statement by Mao Tse-Tung, leader of red China, that he was a Moscow-loving communist;

2. First indications that Chinese reds planned rough treatment for American personnel, as later proved by the beating up of U. S. Vice Consul William Olive.

Instead of Acheson's proposed hands-off policy, the joint chiefs of staff recommended a ring of defenses around red China. This ring will consist of the Japan-Formosa - Philippines Island chain, plus Siam, Burma, India and one small part of south China where Chiang Kai - Shek will be defended to the last ditch.

General MacArthur has cabled his vigorous support of this general idea — which, incidentally, will cost a large and so far unestimated amount of money.

* * *

Pegler Probe.

YOUNG Congressman Jack Kennedy of Boston was elected as a fighting, aggressive champion of labor. He is also the son of Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to London, an admirer of columnist Westbrook Pegler.

And when Pegler called labor leaders "despots, criminals and communists" at a congressional hearing, young Kennedy resigned from the subcommittee, after first protesting the manner in which Chairman Andrew Jacobs of Indianapolis was grilling Pegler.

"Why don't you let somebody else ask some questions?" asked Kennedy. "Representative Sims (S. C.) would like to ask a few."

"You've got your ideas and I've got mine," shot back Jacobs. "You'll get your turn after I get through."

Blazing mad, Kennedy left the committee rostrum and took a seat in the front row of spectators. After chatting briefly with an acquaintance, he went back to the rostrum and announced: "I'm getting off the subcommittee."

"That's okay with me," replied Jacobs.

* * *

New York Politics.

FORMER Governor Herbert Lehman and New York Boss Ed Flynn have been playing cat-and-mouse over who will run for Bob Wagner's Senate seat.

They held two secret huddles last week, during which Flynn tried to get Lehman to announce his candidacy for the Senate immediately. Flynn didn't say so but, if Lehman announced right away, the way would be clear for Flynn's friend, Brooklyn borough president John Cashmore, to be Democratic candidate for mayor of the world's largest city.

Lehman, however, knows he'll have a tough fight to win the Senate seat in November, so he wants a strong candidate on the ticket with him for mayor—and not John Cashmore. That is why he refused to announce until assured who is running mate will be.

* * *

Merry-Go-Round.

WONDER what's become of Elizabeth Bentley, the buxom, confessed female spy who started all the fuss over Alger Hiss. During the Hiss trial she was strangely absent. Nothing left of her in Washington except a hotel bill for $500, for which conscientious Congressman Wood of the un-American activities committee wants special authority from Congress in order to settle . . . Chip Robert, ex-Democratic treasurer, and Sam Pryor, ex-Republican treasurer, got together the other day. They admitted that in the old days they sometimes compared notes. If one bigwig gave to the Republicans, Sam tipped off Chip and Chip collected for the Democrats — and vice versa . . . Chip, incidentally, has a date to go leopard shooting in Ceylon September 15. He can leave Washington on a Thursday, spend the week end shooting Indian leopards and get back by Monday.

What, No Diamonds?

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK — "Open wider, please." I said to Miss Mary McCarty, the singing comedienne.

The words were scarcely out of mouth until Miss McCarty's was open.

I took a good, long look at Miss McCarty's very nice set of chompers.

"I don't see no diamonds," I reported in some disappointment.

"I have not got diamonds in my teeth," was the somewhat testy reply of the young lady who will play a singing, hoofing newspaper reporter in the Irving - Berlin - Robert Sherwood musical, "Miss Liberty," when it opens at the Imperial theatre Friday night.

"Well, it says right here in this Broadway column that you have just spent $5,000 to get your teeth prettied up," I said, shaking the paper under her Irish snub nose, "and if you didn't get diamonds for that much dough, you wuz robbed."

Miss McCarty, an engaging girl with soft brown eyes, sighed.

"That is the cross I bear," she said. "Just because all I want is my two front teeth, and have expended a small sum in having them shored up, it gets in the papers I have had my molars replaced with kohinoors."

"On opening night, I have a good mind to go right down front and bare my teeth at the audience, so it can see that all I have is just standard dental equipment."

* * *

How It All Happened.

THIS might not be a bad idea, as Miss McCarty's teeth are now as famous on Broadway as Mrs. Murphy's chowder. Three years ago when she was trying to keep body and breath together by singing in a California night club, a microphone flew up and bit the girl. It almost knocked her loose from those two front teeth (uppers).

Money was not as easy to come by then as it was thirty months later, after Miss McCarty became an overnight Broadway sensation in a revue "Small Wonder" that opened here nine months ago.

Her extraordinary success in "Small Wonder" led to the offer of a starring role in "Miss Liberty" and a little financial leeway with which to get those two loose teeth cemented in good and tight, together with other odds and ends of denal work.

It all adds up to the painful fact that while rehearsing like a dog in the mid - summer heat for "Miss Liberty," the little McCarty girl has spent all her spare time curled up in a dentist chair with a no - good drill.

But Miss McCarty is used to doing things the hard way. She is of French, Irish and American Indian ancestry. She stems in part from the Osage tribe, the richest Indians in the world, owning, as they do, much of the best oil land in Oklahoma.

"But there was one poor Osage," she said in the Fifth Avenue office of the Playwrights Producing company, "and the McCarty's got her."

From the time she was five until she outgrew the role, she toiled in the Hollywood salt mines, always playing the ornery brat in pictures in which butter wouldn't melt in the rosebud mouth of Miss Shirley Temple or other angelic moppets.

Then she sang in night clubs to keep herself and her mother in coffee and cakes, until one bright night last autumn when Broadway fell on her.

Now, she is happy as a clam at high tide playing a reporter on "The Police Gazette" in "Miss Liberty." She has always longed to be a cover girl. And now, by golly, she's going to be one.

Speaking of Your Health

Tooth Decay and Diet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

NOTHING better illustrates the way in which research pays off than our recent progress in dealing with tooth decay.

The great problem was to find out why certain people developed caries or decayed teeth while others did not.

Clue after clue was followed but it was not until recently that a practical lead was discovered in the relation between diet and tooth decay.

Today there is a great deal of evidence to show that when the diet is high in starch foods or sugars the number of germs known as the lactobacilli in the mouth increases. These germs tend to break down the sugars and starches, thus forming acids which damage the teeth and allow decay to occur. Attempts to help prevent tooth decay by reducing the carbohydrate foods, that is, starches and sugars, in the diet, have been successful.

Recently, an easier method has been discovered. Studies have been conducted which show that, when dentifrices containing ammoniumdiphosphate and urea used in the mouth, the number of lactobacilli is greatly reduced and tooth decay prevented.

A number of preparations containing these substances are available. They are used for brushing the teeth. After bursh-ing, the mouth should not be rinsed since this would wash away the ingredients which prevent the growth of the lactobacilli.

Brushing the teeth alone has not been found to be effective in preventing tooth decay although, of course, brushing helps keep the mouth clean.

* * *

Prefer Tooth Paste.

People vary in their likes and dislikes of preparations for mouth hygiene and cleanliness. Most persons, it would appear, prefer tooth paste, probably because of convenience. Fortunately, it has been possible to put the dibasic ammonium phosphate and urea into tooth paste as well as tooth powders. The evidence thus far presented concerning these preparations seems to indicate that they may be effective in preventing tooth decay. Certainly, they do cut down on the number of lacto-bacilli in the mouth.

Further studies are at present under way employing large groups of children in an attempt to determine the exact value of the ammonium-diphosphate and urea in the prevention of tooth decay.

If these substances are found as effective as the present evidence seems to show, they will do much to contribute to one's health, because decayed teeth endanger health in many ways.

Questions and Answers.

A. B.: What is the cause for the eyelid to be swollen or seem very full?

Answer: This may be due to the development of a stye or a chalazion, which is an infection of one of the glands in the eyelid. It could also be due to some disturbance of the circulation.

Examination by an eye specialist is advisable.

Fall Fashion Picture Shown

Highlighting the Fall fashion picture are fabrics which have undergone a revolution in consistency, reports the July issue of CHARM, the Magazine for the Business Girl. Wools and worsteds, for example, are now nearly as drifting and transparent, as weightless on the shoulders as chiffon.

Tweed, too, has gone soft. A new range of colors — forest green, brick red, mauve, even citron — compliment tweed's delicate new textures.

There are elegant new iridescent brocades, shining satins on shantung, and puckered plisse crepes Expect to see, after five, velvet - feeling nylon - corduroys, velveteens patterned to look like thin tie silks, tissue-weight worsteds with the soft, soft "hand" of crepe de chine.

If your vacation this summer leads you to the city and miles of sightseeing, pamper you feet. Most important, of course, are good-fitting comfortable shoes. Before starting out on sightseeing tours, sprinkle the insides of your shoes with talc. On your return, bathe your feet in cologne or cold water, then rub stick cologne on the soles After this treatment, you'll be ready to start out all over again.

Shirt Boards Come Into Their Own For Many Uses

SHIRT BOARDS, those cardboard backing sheets used by laundries to protect shirts from the time they leave the laundry until they are stored away in dresser drawers by the housewife, have many uses in the home.

Many males, according to the American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the laundry industry, are in the habit of slipping such boards from their laundered shirts and dropping them into a wastebasket, ignorant of the fact that the young fry of the family, for instance, would have use for them.

What would children want with shirt boards? Just pass them out to the youngsters some rainy afternoon along with pencils, rainbow - colored chalks and crayons, and let them scribble and draw on this easy - to - handle drawing board. If they want to dabble in water colors, this board will absorb more water than paper will, and what child doesn't like to use lots of water in the painting process?

Children can make their own jigsaw puzzles, merely by pasting pictures on the discarded shirt board, cutting it up, and fitting the pieces together again. The board provides a backing for cut-out dolls or pictures of animals and can also be used for scrapbook covers.

Adults will find use for that versatile shirt board when it comes to painting windows. The board may be held over the glass windowpane while painting the wooden window sections. Then the cardboard instead of the glass will receive the excess paint. It can be used as a guide, too, in painting a two - toned piece of furniture, so that one color will not run into the other.

Those whose tastes run to stencils can draw their own original designs on shirt boards. It is then an easy matter to cut and paint them on nursery, kitchen and bathroom walls.

Women of the house will find that shirt boards are stiff enough to hold sweepings when no dust pan is handy. Some housewives keep a supply of them in their basements and garages and reach for one when they are overcome with the cleaning urge. If you're building or remodeling a home, there's additional reason for saving those shirt boards. Stack them near the old broom used for sweeping up wood shavings, plaster particles, and the mud and dirt which is daily tracked into the house by workmen.

And when it comes to preparing food for the family, housewives will find these shirt boards come in handy. Vegetables or fruit for a salad could be peeled on one of these boards and then cardboard and peelings disposed of. Because of the absorbent properties of the cardboard, there would not be the possibility of breakage and spillage of the wet refuse as is the case of paper) before the board and contents were placed in the garbage can. Two of these boards could also be used for sifting small quantities of flour.

Horoscope

For Friday, July 15
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

Although there are excellent auspices for promotion, splendid achievements, expansive and of far-reaching scope and opportunity, assured cooperation and capital from high financial sources, yet it might be possible to overplay the hand, or undermine desired projects or plans, by reckless, extravagant, or irascible conduct of major affairs. It may seem an occasion for plunging, splurging for force and fury where calm judgment and studied effort could better impress and gain ends.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, have excellent prospects of putting over their cherished programs and projects, with much promise of increasing scope and openings for major objectives. The cooperation of important personages, whose capital and prestige is of prime significance. This might be jeopardized by rash attempts to force the issues, to lose sight of values or overact in "plunging" or extravagant ideas. Keep calm and practical where the funds of others may be threatened by such wild plunges.

A child born on this day while able, skillful and ambitious may get out of hand, by extravagent ideas, rash use of funds or by the favor of those in important positions.

Plymouth Couple Wed In Unity, Pa.

PLYMOUTH—In a formal open church ceremony on June 30, Miss Faye Jeffrey and Carl Sponseller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moody Sponseller of near-Plymouth, exchanged nuptial vows at the Presbyterian church in Unity, Pa. The double ring ceremony was used.

Barbecue Meals Appeal To All

If you like to have a party of friends around an outdoor fireplace, you'll be interested in recipes for barbecue dinners.

Here's the "how-to" of the steak dinner:

Charcoal-Broiled Steak
Easy Hashed Potatoes
Hot Asparagus in Casserole
Green-Cabbage Slaw
Melon or Heavenly Chocolate Pie
Coffee

On Saturday, cook potatoes; chill in refrigerator with melon. Or make pie. On Sunday: Before guests arrive, prepare cole slaw and potato mixture; store in refrigerator. Cook asparagus indoors while steak, potatoes, and coffee are on grill.

Allow ¾ pounds steak per person, and buy a small, thick steak unstead of a large, thin one. A steak should not be less than 1½" thick — preferably 2½" thick. A 1½" steak, done rare, requires about 15 minutes over a bed of glowing coals; a 2½" steak requires about 30 minutes. Steak is carved in ¾" vertical or diagonal slices so that each person may have a serving of the tenderloin. Use large wooden cutting board and a sharp carving fork and knife.

When the fire is reduced to a bed of glowing red coals, the steak can be broiled. Place steak on long-handled wire broiler, and hold it close to coals over intense heat until meat is seared on one side; turn broiler, and sear on other side. Now move steak to regular grill height, about 3" from coals. Continue cooking, turning steak every 5 minutes until done but still rare enough for juice to run freely when meat is cut with knife. To test, insert tip of knife into steak close to bone, pull meat back; if it's still raw, continue cooking. Do not, at any time, lift steak with a fork; use barbecue tongs.

What could be more refreshing on a hot summer evening than this supper surprise from the food editors of the Woman's Home Companion. Top hot buttered waffles with crushed sweetened red raspberries or sliced peaches. A gormet's tip: add ½ cup shredded cocomut to the standard waffle recipe.

There's more to these attractive lounges than meets the eye! They're really studio couches, each of which makes up into either twin beds or an over-size double. Aren't the lamps stunning? Bases are reconditioned wallpaper rollers. The color scheme for the room is combined in the gray, red and white draperies.

Share Your Children's Play

It is fun to be with children and to play with them. Yet how often one hears the busy mother say, "Go play, dear, I have too much work to do." Too often one hears the tired or apathetic dad say, "Go play"—period!

With all we have learned in the last few years about the importance of play, says Rowena Shoemaker, Assistant Director of the Play Schools Association, "parents might as well be saying go play with dynamite, my little ones!"

Parents need to take a critical look around the home and ask themselves:

Is this truly "our" home?

Does our home provide space for the children to play undisturbed and when necessary undisturbing to the grownups?

Does our home give the children opportunities to share in its comforts, its responsibilities and its resources?

Does our home encourage self-reliance? For instance, have we low hooks for wraps and clothing chairs which fit the children; low cupboards or shelves for toys and books?

Does our home provide opportunity for the children to have friends both indoors and out?

Does our home give our children a sense of security and a feeling of "belonging" - "we" - ness?

Have we in our home the toys and play equipment to meet the needs of our children?

Does our home allow our children full scope to create without too many do's and don't's?

All children must play to grow individually and with their contemporaries, says Mrs. Shoemaker. The need of children to play cannot be side-stepped by wise parents. Keeping a home with happy participating children in it need not be drudgery — it can be fun if we use good old-fashioned common sense.

Let's do things with our children. The following suggestions may help you think of many others:

1. Make a list of things which need to be done and decide who will do what. Have plans of the day but also have long range plans. Something to look forward to is always an exciting experience for the whole family.

2. Have two sets of toys (especially for the little ones) — alternate them — they then become a novelty.

3. Plan museum visits. They are legitimate jaunts for rainy days.

4 The family mending box holds untold treasures for both boys and girls. Old trunks can yield bits of soft materials, cotton batting, colored wool, old stockings, strings, etc. What better idea than to make a doll out of the scrap material?

5. Doll furniture can be made of small milk containers, or cardboard boxes. Dad can help here, too.

6. "Let's go for a walk" will almost always have an enthusiastic response. Your little ones will also appreciate a wagon made out of boxes.

7. Children like to finger paint. For very young children, oil cloth can be used and washed after each painting time.

8. Play interests can be encouraged by using discarded household utensils.

9. Children need climbing equipment. Some can be made out of boxes and an old ladder.

10. A sand box is a must for the younger children.

11. Holidays are fun for parents. Think of the magic of planning for the special festivities — planning for and with your children.

Asks Spy Probers to Subpoena Noted Singer

Rep. Walter Flays Paul Robeson

Wants Explanation Of Red Stand

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Rep. Walter (D) Pa., urged yesterday that the House unAmerican Activities committee subpoena singer Paul Robeson and require him to explain his statements concerning Negro loyalty.

Walter's proposal came after baseball star Jackie Robinson postponed until next Monday his appearance before the committee to refute Robeson's assertion that U. S. Negroes would refused, to fight for America against Russia.

The Pennsylvanian advanced his suggestion following the testimony of a committee investigator that a rally welcoming Robeson home after the Negro singer's trip to Russia was "calculated to stir a rebellious spirit" among American Negroes.

Robeson reiterated at the rally, held in New York, his declaration that it would be "unthinkable" for U. S. Negroes to fight against the Soviet Union in the event of war.

At the outset of the hearing, Chairman Wood (D) Ga., read a letter from Gen. Eisenhower attesting to the loyalty of Negroes who served in the American armed forces during World War II.

Investigator Alvin W. Stokes told the committee that only 1,400 Negroes in the United States are known communist party members. This represents less than one-tenth of one per cent of the Negro population.

Stokes said the communists subject Negroes to "constant and relentless propaganda." He added that the communist party has made determined efforts to "recruit, capture and control outstanding Negroes."

Walter told the committee that Robeson had made statements "reflecting on the loyalty of a large segment of our population" and should be summoned for questioning.

Plan To Build

CANTON — (AP) — A $1,000,000 building project including a Catholic church, a rectory, a school, and a convent will be built here, said Msgr. George N. Habig.

Loudonville's Kettering To Be Honored With 'Barn Loft Gang'

Loudonville's most famous son, Charles F. Kettering — who borrowed on his insurance policy, suffered a broken leg and spent grueling months of disappointment getting his relay-controlled ignition and self-starter on the market—will be honored with his old "barn loft gang" in Dayton, July 22.

Kettering, who has since become better known to the nation as vice president of General Motors and retired GM research director, will be cited at the 40th anniversary of Dayton Egnineering Laboratories company.

Those first pioneers who worked in Col. E. A. Deed's barn loft on Dayton's Central avenue, will also recall that the first milling machine was purchased with the $1,500 Mrs. Kettering saved from giving music lessons.

Col. Deeds, co-founder of the company and now board chairman of the National Cash Register, will be at the celebration along with William A. Chryst, retired Delco products chief engineer, and C. E. Wilson, GM president who headed Delco in 1927 and 28.

The infant company was financed by the music lesson money, by mortages on the Deeds property and by money borrowed on Kettering's modest life insurance. The idea was born when Kettering Deeds and Chryst began tinkering with the ignition of an auto Deeds had built for himself. That was in 1908.

The relay - controlled ignition system, conceived by Kettering, eliminated the old-time magneto and dry-cell battery ignitions. Cadillac introduced it on its 1910 model, but the experts weren't sure it would work. Finally Kettering got the idea of an electric self - starter for motorcars. By September, 1910 it was ready for the test

But that test was almost never completed. Once a fire destroyed the starter; twice it had to be redesigned to fit under the hood; Kettering broke his leg in a test car accident and a flood almost whiped out the little company before production was really underway.

Finally, Delco had to tie up meager funds to fight costly patent infringement suits through the courts.

But motorists liked the starter and five years of work and skimping developed into a thriving business.

A native of Loudonville, Kettering now maintain's a summer home on a hill overlooking the family farm in Ashland county.

'Bald Heads' Relive 90's; Farmer Routs Food Inspector

CHICAGO — (INS) — It's been 56 years since "Little Egypt" shummied and shook at the World's Columbian exposition but to the men of '93 she's got the present - day strippers and interpretive dancers beat all hollow.

Those elderly members of "bald head's row" gathered this week in Chicago's Jackson park, scene of the exposition, for a meeting of the Association of '93ers.

And they spend most of the time talking about the famous hoochy - koochy dancer who died in 1937.

There were a few women along who dismissed "Little Egypt's" work as trash but the outing was a success nonetheless.

When talk ran low, the '93ers ran through some old songs, and wound up their day pinning a tail on a donkey.

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A Lorain county farmer yesterday was charged with assault and battery by a city food inspector who claimed he was roughed up and kept prisoner on the farmer's property.

Stephen Gual, 37, of Chagrin Falls said Carl L. Laisy of Camden township also tore up city inspection records during an argument over a milkcan washer.

The inspector said he went to the farm to tell Laisy that his farm, with 60 head of dairy cattle, was excluded from shipping milk to Cleveland. He said Laisy had failed to comply with an order to install a second milkcan-washing vat.

"Things got rough," Gaul is quoted as saying. "The guy tore up my orders. He grabbed me, picked me up bodily, ran me out of the milkhouse and threw me into my car."

Mrs. Laisy denied her husband manhandled Gual. She said her husband "blew up — but only in words."

Drought Ups Food Costs Across U. S.

Rains Fall Too Late For Coast

(By Associated Press)

Changes in retail food prices this week were confined mostly to produce items affected by drought in many growing areas across the country.

Welcome rains in the past few days finally ended the prolonged dry spell in most places but the damage already ad been done. Northeastern states were the hardest hit. Crop losses in New England alone were estimated at around $30,000,000.

Eastern markets were shipping in cabbage, for example, from as far away as Colorado to fill the supply gap. Iowa also was sending cabbage to the Atlantic seaboard. Ordinarily, Colorado produce seldom comes further east to market than Chicago and Cleveland

Long Island, New York, which in former years had claimed the title of "the cauliflower center of America" was receiving cauliflower this week from Washington state and Idaho. California was sending much larger than usual shipments of broccoli, lettuce and other vegetables as locally-grown supplies dwindled and quality declined

The National Cranberry association reported the cranberry crop "seriously reduced" by 50 days without rain in Massachusetts. It said the long hot spell had killed many vines on Cape Cod which produces two-thirds of the country's cranberries.

Good quality eastern potatoes advanced in price. Some growers' spokesmen said the crop had been cut almost in half by the drought finally broken this week

About the only items on produce shelves which were generally lower in price this week were celery, onions, lima beans and watermelon.

Pork cuts advanced as much as four cents a pound and a moderate rise at wholesale early this week indicated retail quotations might be marked up generally by the week - end However, most meat prices held about steady with last week.

Top grade eggs rose to eight cents a dozen in some marketing centers where hot weather was a factor. Sellers said high quality dimlinishes quickly in exceptionally hot temperatures.

U. S. Underestimated Results of Two Wars

By WALTER LIPPMANN

Why, we are bound to ask ourselves, have all our plans for world recovery fallen so far short of what they were supposed to do?

Beginning with the World Bank and the Monetary fund, which were followed by the British and the French loans, which were followed by the Marshall plan, we have tried to reconstruct a world economy in which our partners and friends could earn their way toward a rising standard of life.

Neither they nor we have wanted to think of the American subsidy as anything but a temporary and undesirable necessity. But we have not succeeded, and once again the economic relations of Europe and North America are at a crisis.

The easy temptation is first to deny that there is a crisis. Then to complain about the policies, measures, economic theories or ideologies which we disagree with and do not like.

And after that to look for trick remedies, like devaluation — or for Utopian solutions, such as the unification of a Eurpoe which is partitioned at the Elbe river — or to fix on counsels of perfection, as for example, that the relatively backward industries of Western Europe should begin quickly to compete efficiently with American industry.

But if we are looking very honestly for the true answer, we must, I think, say that our error has been to underrate the tremendous consequesces of the two world wars not only on Europe but on the United States as well. So we have allowed ourselves to believe, what we so much wanted to believe, that each successive project would be the one that would soon bring the world back to what was once the normal.

Now, having made these many disappointing experiments, we shall have to admit that the old normal is not being restored, that the problem of post-war reconstruction is unique, that within the near future it may be manageable but it is not soluable, and that even with the wisest statesmanship we can hope only to assuage difficulties, choose the lesser of the unpleasant choices open to us, leaving it to time and the much longer future to evolve a new relationship between Europe and America.

REAL ISSUES OBSCURED

Because the crisis is being discussed in the technical terms of finance, the real issues become obscured. Yet beneath the chronic "dollar deficit" and the "inconvertibility" of the foreign currencies, there is a human situation the like of which the modern world has never seen before.

The two world wars, plus the cold war and the fear of a third war, have made Western Europe dependent, as it never was before, on supplies from North America. This same warring and warlike epoch has made, indeed forced the United States to become self-sufficient as it never was before.

The crux of the problem and the heart of the crisis is that Europe must buy absolute necessities from us whereas there is almost nothing that we have to buy from Europe Even in 1937, when situation was more favorable than it is now, European finished manufactures imported into this country were less than 1 per cent of our consumption.

There were perhaps a dozen commodities, none of them necessities, of which our imports from Europe were more than 5 per cent.

This is the hard and irreducible core of the problem of the balance of payments and its chronic dollar deficits, and of the unsuccess of the loans and of the Marshall plan. The baffling question has been, and is, how a businesslike relation can be maintained between the Europeans who must buy from us and Americans who do not have to buy from Europe

The story has often been told of how the wars have exhausted the foreign investments have depleted the capital, and have disrupted the markets of Europe, and of how the military partition of Europe, the cold war, and the colonial revolutions have reduced the earning power of Europe.

But an equally important chapter of the same story is not so well known. It is how the wars have affected the United States, causing by forced draught an increase not only in American productivity but also in American self-sufficiency. It is a malicious caricature of this development, often used by the communist propaganda, to say that American has grown rich from the wars. America would be much richer without them.

But it is true that the wars in Europe have compelled this country to save itself and to save Europe, including Russia, by developing its own industrial and agricultural production to a point where it is largely self-sufficient with great surpluses in addition

Nye Blasts Accuser

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Lt. Gov. George D. Nye cracked back angrily yesterday at charges he was officially connected with the Lake White club near Waverly, his home town, and that the club operated slot machines

The charge was contained in a letter to Governor Lausche following last week's raid on the notorious Mounds Club Near Painesville.

Said Nye:

"I am not now nor have I ever been connected in any manner, financially or as a lawyer, with the slot machine interests any place in the state of Ohio or elsewhere.

"I have no knowledge of the the identity of the Portsmouth individual purporting to have made such charges that I was linked with such interests. My first reaction was to ignore such a loose statement, but I cannot permit the charge to go unanswered."

The letter demanded that Lausche close the club or the writer would place the matter before the state's newspapers.

4 Cars Wrecked On Grain-Loaded Train

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A grain - loaded fast diesel Pennsylvania freight train broke in the middle yesterday near Columbus, wrecking four cars and tearing up both east and west tracks halting traffic on the Chicago-bound main line.

Begin Talks On British Situation

Financial Crisis Comes Under Study

LONDON — (INS) — British commonwealth finance ministers began a crucial London conference yesterday aimed at drafting unified measures to stem the drain of dollars and gold from the world's sterling areas.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee formally opened the parley, which will be under the chairmanship of Sir Stafford Cripps, British chancellor of the exchequer.

Besides Cripps, the top financial officials of Australia, Canada, New Zeland, South Africa, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Southern Rhodesia and northern Ireland, are attending.

The chief problem confronting the ministers—all of whom except Canada represent countries in the so - called sterling area, where the British pound is the basic currency—is how to meet the dollar shortage which is threatening Britain with an economic disaster.

Two main lines of attack are expected to be discussed. The first envisions an increase in exports to the dollar areas so as to increase dollar earnings and secure a more favorable trade balance.

The second calls for an increase in inter - commonwealth trade which would reduce the sterling nations' dependence on dollar supplies.

A major point of discussion at the London meeting will most likely be the touchy question of devaluing the British pound.

Cripps and the Labor government have steadfastly rejected suggestions that the pound be reduced in value as compared to the dollar.

The Singapore newspaper "The Straits Times" objected because Malaya was not formally represented at the London finance meeting.

Employ Students For Highway Work

COLUMBUS — (INS) — State Highway Director T. J. Kauer announced Tuesday that his department had launched a $450,000 student employment program to last through the summer months.

Kauer said approximately 800 high school and college students would be able to earn between $500 and $600 during the summer, painting guard rails and mowing weeds. He said the program was under the direction of L. F. Schaeublin, chief engineer in the maintenance bureau.

A former city editor and night editor of the Ohio State Journal, Mylander left newspaper work in the mid-1920's to become public relations secretary to the Ohio Bankers association.

In 1930, he became a vice president of the First National bank at Cincinnati and two years later came to the Huntington National bank, also as a vice president.

A native of Oak harbor, he was educated in public schools there and at the University of Michigan.

Group Studies Child Problem

COLUMBUS —(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche Tuesday created a 17-member commission to study the state's juvenile problems.

Allen County Probate Judge Raymond P. Smith was appointed chairman of the group which was named the Ohio Commission on Children and Youth.

The commission will study the problems and needs of Ohio children during the next year. Their findings will be presented in 1950 at a White House conference to be called by President Truman.

Major Removes Warheads From 'Harmless' Torpedoes

SALT LAKE CITY — (UP) — An army major, who helped disarm dud bombs in Europe during the war coolly removed the warheads from two aerial torpedoes in a junk yard yesterday while nearby residents evacuated their homes

Maj Schuyler V C Larkin, working under searchlights and behind sandbag barricades in a scene reminiscent of wartime London disarmed the torpedoes without incident

The disarming took nine hours Only the residents of nearby homes left the area, but county officials said that more than a score, perhaps up to 100 homes and small plants would have been flattened or damaged if Larkin had made a mistake

The owners of the junk yard said they purchased the 'empty tubes" as scrap metal from the army's former guided missile test center at Wendeover, Utah The tubes were labelled "special weapons field tests" but were supposed to be empty

One still was intact The others fuse had been touched off by a workman's acetylene torch, but the warhead miraculously had not exploded

Larkin said the torpedoes were "in perfect working order'

They could have done plenty of damage," he said

CLEVELAND —(UP)— An 81-year old woman sued her 86-year old husband for alimony yesterday, charging he fed her zoo meat and gave her only $200 a year to live on

Mrs Anna Recknagel told domestic relations court that she was fed meat intended for animals at the zoo, where her husband, Karl, once worked, while he saved about $17 000

Recknagel denied his wife's charges and said he had only $1,500 hidden in his home

Mrs Recknagel also said her household expenses, controlled by her husband, averaged about $200 a year for the past 25 years but Recknagel said 'it was a little higher than that"

She said she kept records of her husband's expenses and incomes "to the penny" for the first ten years of their marriage, and in 1922, the year they were married, Recknagel spent $92 72

The Recknagles separated last May Mrs Recknagle went to live with her daughter by a previous marriage and her husband moved in with a niece

Claims He's Convinced Hiss Lied About 'Deals' With Former Red

WASHINGTON — I am absolutely convinced that there was a ring of notorous communists in our State department during the time that Whittaker Chambers dealt with in his testimony before the Thomas committee last year and, later, in the trial of Alger Hiss in New York on charges of perjury.

I am absolutely convinced that, even though Chambers did lie in some particulars, for motives that I understand, Hiss also lied and, in particular, was not merely mistaken but lied when he said he did not remember Chambers under that name or any other name up to the time of the dramatic confrontation last summer.

I am convinced of the treachery of the Harvard law cabal which gave Soviet Russia the benefit of traitorous eyes, ears and intellects in all the departments of our government almost from the very beginning of the Roosevelt administration in 1933.

And I contend that Franklin D. Roosevelt and his wife, who now represents this nation in international negotiations, were responsible and deserve blame for the "policy" or attitude of the administration which defiantly permitted, even assisted, this unspeakable betrayal of the United States to take place.

Therefore, although the proposed investigation of the Hiss trial, as conducted by Judge Samuel H. Kaufman, by the House committee on un-American activities would be supplementary, irregular and inconclusive, I say that it should be made.

It would be self-deception by anyone who knows the character of the Democrats on that committee to suspect that the reason why they oppose this investigation is that they are pro-communists themselves or go in fear of personal reprisals.

But their motives are political and, broadly, the thought of these Democrats is that the alarm is up now and therefore the espionage system cannot be re-established.

They would let the department of justice take it from here on in, as the fatuous jargon of the bureaus has it, and would even be complacent if the department should assign these trials to judges committed to the Roosevelt myth and to incompetent or deliberately faithless prosecutors who could be relied on to bungle the presentation and let the accused go free.

THIS has been the method of the department of justice in cases past where a pretense was called for and that was one reason why I and, doubtless, many other citizens watched with a frankly skeptical eye the conduct of the Hiss trial by Judge Kaufman and even the conduct of Thomas F. Murphy, the assistant United States attorney who made the prosecution. Murphy satisfied me that he was on the level.

This whole situation, from the early infiltration of that slinking crew of Harvard study-boys with their icy grins of intellectual hauteur, has been a new experience in the life of this nation.

It is comparable to historical dramas in the lives of nations in the old world, the late Russian empire for one, but, to us, it is so novel that we cannot truly appreciate the enormity of the offense against our dearest ideals, our morals and our loyalty.

Knowing this to be so, and obliged as he is by the wormy code of the professional politician to maintain the myth and put down the truth of his own acquiescence, President Truman has insistently belittled the whole seething corruption as a red herring.

TRUCK DAMAGED IN BLAZE—A pick-up truck was damaged and matresses were destroyed yesterday afternoon when fire heavily damaged a large shed at the Jack Cline property, 433 North Mulberry street. Two Mansfield firemen are shown pouring water on the smoldering building. The fire of undetermined origin broke out at 4 p. m. Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations answered the alarm.

'Love Nest' Defendants Want Jury

All Seven Seek Separate Trials

Attorneys for seven persons arrested on a morals charge as a result of a police raid on a 'love nest' apartment at 32½ West Fourth street, have filed motions in juvenile court, asking for trials by jury and separate trials for their clients.

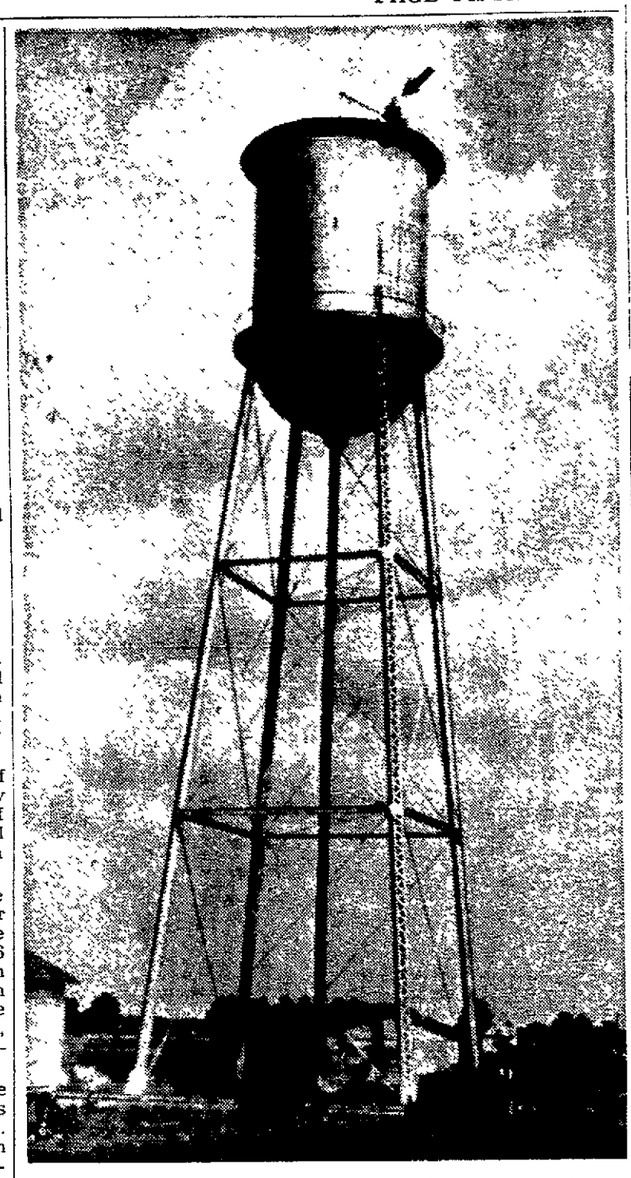
The seven had been scheduled to face trial tomorrow, but drawing of a jury venire resulted in postponement of the cases. Juvenile Officer Ralph W. Carroll said no time has been set.

Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer pointed out that he would have to hold trial in the common pleas court room when available, as he doesn't have facilities for a jury trial.

The defendants are accused of contributing to the delinquency of a 13 - year - old girl. All of them are out on bond. The girl is held in the county jail as a witness.

Motions on behalf of five of the defendants were filed by their attorney, George W. Biddle. The five are Marily Jackson, 22, 1016 Park avenue west; Noble Keith Perry, 19, of 32½ West Fourth street; Guy Long jr., 25, same address; Joseph Ralph Barto, 27, same address; and Charles Lester Perry, 22, same address.

The other two motions were filed on behalf of their clients by Attorneys Beam and Beam. The two defendants were John J. Weber, 22, of 264 Park avenue east; and Mrs. Elsie Ramona Graves, 20, Akron.



JAILBIRD PERCHES—Blocked by guards in an escape attempt, Raymond Julita, 35, is perched on top of this 130-foot water tower at the Lima state hospital. Julita, a convicted rape-slawer, climbed to the top of the tank after firemen attempted to reach him with an aerial ladder which fell 15 feet short. All last night he scampered up and down the steel girders, claiming he'll stay up there if he has to.

Widow Named As Life Heir

Peppard, Other Bequests Listed

Dr. David W. Peppard left an estate estimated at $160,000, all in personal property, letters testimentary filed today in probate court showed.

A physician here for 46 years, Dr. Peppard died July 3 at the age of 72.

His will stipulates that the estate go to his widow, Mrs. Louise C. Peppard, for life, and then pass equally to his four children.

The four are Mrs. J. O. Wilkinson and Mrs. James T. Keyes, both of San Carlos, Calif., and Mrs. Paul C. Wilmore and William D. Peppard, both of San Mateo, Calif. The widow was named executrix of the estate.

KEITH ESTATE

Letters of administration were filed in the estate of Mrs. Jessie F. Keith, who died June 12. They show that the value of her estate is estimated at $50,000 in real property and $10,000 in personal property.

★

She was the widow of Boyd B. Keith. Since there was no will, the estate will be divided among three children.

They are Robert and Richard Keith, of Mansfield, and Miss Josephine Keith, of Lorain.

The will of Mrs. Belle E. Stocker, late of Mansfield, provides that $50 go to the Baptist church, 296 Park avenue west; an equal sum to a nephew, Dale Robigson, and $100 to a granddaughter, Mrs. Dana Cavin.

She left the balance of her estate to her son, Dallas E. Stocker, who was named executor. The estate estimate is $7,500.

Launch Fund Campaign

A Richland county committee to aid Boy's Village in Smithville, has been chosen by Frank A. Berkey, 303 Vennum avenue, who will serve as chairman.

Committee members are Arliss F. Porter, 55 Lexington avenue, Floyd Dent, 286 Rowland avenue, E. C. Brower, 262 Elmwood drive and Lloyd Paste, 190 Euclid avenue.

The committee will conduct its campaign to raise funds for Boy's Village by letters, pamphlets and posters. The 8,000 letters which will reach Mansfielders Monday were addressed by members of the National Secretary's Association.

No goal has been set by the committee. A drive was conducted once before in the county to aid the village, last Christmas. At that time the committee received donations from every one of the thousand addresses where letters were sent.

Molotov's Five Wrong Guesses Resulted In His Being Ousted

(Highly informed people say Molotov has been promoted to China, where he is directing Red policy for the Far East. One of the column's foreign correspondents, however, reports that he is on the way out politically. This is the view of those who think Stalin has demoted him.)

★

For the first time the outlook for peace is good because the Kremlin is in trouble.

A new kind of purge is going on in Soviet Russia and in the satellite countries. . . . It is different from the old purges when Trotsky, Bukarin, Zinoviev, Tukachevsky and others were liquidated.

At that time purges were directed against people Stalin was afraid of and who he thought were plotting to overflow him.

This time the purge is directed against Stalin's most loyal allies, who have remained and still are faithful to him even after being purged. . . . It is a purge against inefficiency.

For the first time since the outbreak of the Soviet revolution in 1917 the top leadership of the Kremlin has realized the staggering inefficiencies of some of the generals and diplomatic leaders of Russia. That is why Molotov went.

Our correspondent believes that Mr. Molotov was not kicked upstairs but that he was, once and for all, relieved of his duties as Foreign Minister and will never come back as such.

Viacheslav Molotov was wrong on five basic policy points and made the Politburo and the Kremlin commit blunder after blunder.

Molotov's first contention was: "The first revolution of a Bolshevik type will take place in Germany. Twelve years of nazism will undoubtedly result in the creation of a vast spontaneous popular and trade union movement, controlled by the German communist party.

But Molotov was wrong . . . A good number of Germans still like nazism much more than they do communism, and today the Bolsheviks are weaker in Germany than they were 18 months ago.

Molotov told the Politburo that France would soon be communist.

But Molotov was wrong . . .

A French moderate government was able to resist both DeGaulle and the communists.

"In Italy," Molotov said, "the party will be in power before the end of 1947."

But Molotov was wrong . . . Today the Italian communist party is weaker than it was in 1947, and it is further from power than ever.

Molotov told the Politburo that in 1948-49 there would be a big depression in the U. S, with 20,000,000 unemployed, with strikes, race riots, etc., and the U. S. Government would be busy worrying about things other than stopping communism in Europe.

On the fifth point Mr. Molotov was wrong because, instead of being too optimistic as before, he was too pessimistic . . . "We can get Europe," he said, "but not China, because the U. S. will never let Chiang down. The Chinese communists have no chance of taking over the country."

And again Molotov was wrong.

The Politburo boys have been doing some serious thinking about the world in the last few months . . . They have looked over their assets and their liabilities, and this is what they found:

The U. S. has not been sleeping . . . The Atlantic pact, arms aid, the Marshall plan, the constant defeats of the Soviets in United Nations meetings, have convinced Russia that one single step more — anywhere—toward conquering new lands for communism would result in war.

Therefore, Russia has been stopped and will remain so for a long time to come.

Youth Held In City Cell

Linked With Break-In Try

A 15 - year - old North Main street youth was held in city jail's juvenile cell today in connection with an attempted breaking and entering of the Babcock Donut shop, 30 East Fourth street.

The boy was arrested at 2:20 a. m. today when he was seen loitering around the back door of the Wellborn Handy store, East Second and Hedges streets.

Police said they were called to the Donut shop at 4:30 p. m. yesterday by a clerk who said a suspicious person was at the back door. The clerk said the youth ran when she asked him what he wanted.

Investigation by officers found that the east screen door of the shop had been cut just below the latch and that the hook had been lifted.

Police said they also were looking for another youth who is believed to have walked off with two table model radios yesterday afternoon from the Goodrich store at East Fourth and North Diamond streets.

A salesman at the Goodrich store told officers at 2:50 p. m. that a boy had come in and asked to look at radios. The clerk said the boy told him his mother was building a house and that he wanted to buy a radio for her. The two radios, total value $70, were found to be missing after the youth left the store.

That "prisoner" down in Mexico hasn't been released yet and opportunity to acquire a one-third interest in the $385,000 he has hidden in a trunk somewhere in the United States still awaits anyone who will supply him with enough money to get him out of trouble. That's the story told in an air mail letter from Mexico city just received by a Mansfield professional man. Just another of those rackets that had their beginning in the old "Spanish prisoner" scheme of a generation ago—and not likely to fool any intelligent person.

HAMMY'S ON LOOSE

"Please don't anyone kill my little hamster if they find him," 5-year-old Johnnie Takos, 184 West Fifth street, pleaded today. "Hammy", Johnnie's pet, disappeared from home night before last and the youngster has been looking for it ever since. He'd like very much to have the hamster back, Johnnie readily admitted, but agreed that if some other boy found it he hoped they'd "take good care of it." The child son of Mr. and Mrs. John Takos, is afraid the harmless animal will scare someone and that they may kill it without knowing what it is. (Hamsters, resembling small guinea pigs, are used as a pet and as experimental aids for hospitals.)

Potter was arraigned Tuesday before Mayor A. P. Sonner in Crestline and was brought to the county jail when he was when he was unable to furnish $2,000 bond.

Plane's Bad Luck Proves To Be Good

A plane carrying two persons injured near here Saturday in an automobile accident to Washington, D. C., was unable to use the capital's airport, but the plane's trouble turned out to be good luck instead of bad, Mansfield municipal airport officials learned.

W. H. Shafer, 34, 282 Elmwood drive, pilot of the plane which was transporting the two injured persons, landed in a field closer to the hospital to which they were going than the Washington airport would have been. He could not get a clearance at the National airport because of the weather and heavy air traffic.

A doctor was on hand to care for Mrs. Hilda Louise Bushman, 34, Laurel, Md., and Frank E. Tydings, the two injured in the automobile accident.

The field was one frequently used by pilots who cannot land for some reason at National airport.

Martha Smiles, Fernandez Stares

'Lonely Hearts' Confession Revealed

NEW YORK — (UP) — Fat Martha Beck smiled happily and Raymond Fernandez stared stonily yesterday while a prosecutor read to a jury Fernandez' own story of angrily strangling a whimpering, elderly widow who yearned for his love, after Mrs Beck had "kept her quiet" by bashing her head with the hammer

Fernandez, 34 mail-order Gigolo who preyed on lonely and elderly women with money through correspondence clubs, and Mrs Beck, 29, his 200-pound mistress, are on trial for first degree murder in Bronx Supreme Court They killed Mrs Janet Fay, 66, on Jan 4 in order to steal her widow's mite

As the "lonely hearts" trial entered its 21st day, Assistant District Attorney Edward Robinson jr, of Nassau county read to the 10 men and two women in the jury box a statement Fernandez gave to authorities in Grand Rapids, Mich, after he and Mrs Beck had been arrested for slaying a second widow and her baby daughter.

In the state which took Robinson more than two hours to read, Fernandez told of his amours with five other lovesick women, one of whom gave him $1,600 in cash. Mrs. Beck was on the scene for all the affairs, posing as Fernandez' sister.

Twice during 1948, Fernandez said his fleshy paramour had attempted suicide unsuccessfully out of jealousy when he wooed the widows so ardently she feared he might be sincere.

The statement told how Fernandez, using the name "Charles Martin," had gone to Albany in December to court Mrs Fay in person, after courting her by letters Early in January, Fernandez persuaded her to withdraw her money from three Albany banks, — a total of $4,000

Then, she Fernandez, and Mrs Beck came to New York. They went to a house in Valley Stream, N Y which Fernandez had rented Mrs Fay and Mrs Beck went to bed in the bedroom Fernandez said he slept on a courch in the living room

Fernandez said he was awakened by Mrs Fay who was in her night gown She was sobbing and she said 'I want to be near you"

Then she asked if her money was safe He said he had it in his pocket

"I heard her whimpering and I was angry," he said. "I got up and she was kneeling down. I asked Martha; 'what happened? Did you tell her anything?' And she said, 'I don't know. she just wants her money'

I told Martha 'See how you can keep the woman quiet No matter how' I left and when I got back she had kept her quiet by hitting her on the head with the hammer"

Calls Loan To Spain a 'Giveaway'

Acheson Blasts Senate Committee

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Secretary of State Dean Acheson said yesterday that the Senate appropriations committee's recommendation of a $50,000,000 loan to Franco Spain amounts to a giveaway.

Acheson made clear at a news conference that it was his opinion that inclusion of Spain in any way in the Marshall plan should be a matter left primarily to western European nations participating in the program.

He said up to this time that has been the policy of the State department, the Economic Cooperation administration and Congress.

Acheson said he was unable to say whether the Senate appropriations committee action ran counter to that policy. But if it does, he said, it was his belief that the matter should be up to the Europeans.

Acheson said that if Congress wants to give away $50,000,000, that is another matter.

In addition to the $50,000,000 appropriation in the Senate bill, a secret clause designed to keep U. S. farm exports high is under fire.

The provision, not yet public, was written into the measure recommending a $569,820,000 slash in ECA's spending request for the current fiscal year.

He said he thought the State department could find better uses for the $50,000,000 recommended for Spain by the committee if it had been asked for advice.

But he noted that the advice had not been sought.

The agricultural clause in the ECA appropriations bill is under fire from ECA boss Paul G. Hoffman.

Today's Garden Graph

Even Carrots Have Enemies

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Central Press Association

Guard your carrots carefully at this season against leaf blight or invasion by the carrot rust fly

Leaf blight on carrots shows its presence by dark spots on the foliage which yellows and dies if the infection is severe. Typical appearance of carrot leaf blight is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Unless the infection is checked, top and root growth will be reduced.

To control leaf blight, spray with a Bordeaux mixture at 10-day intervals beginning when the plants are three to four inches tall.

A little later in the season if the carrots in your garden wilt and gradually die, you can be certain that the carrot rust fly has been around. This fly is very small and greenish in color. It lays its eggs in the collars of young carrots. The eggs hatch into legless larvae, one-fourth of an inch long. The larva tunnels into the carrot root, as illustrated.

When the carrot fly larva is full grown, it goes into the soil and changes into a pupa, from which, in turn, it develops into a fly. There are two broods each year, one in June and another in late September.

Best control measure is treating the seedling carrots with corrosive sublimate one ounce to 10 gallons of water). The plants and soil around them should be thoroughly soaked with this mixture for at least two inches on each side of the carrot rows. Crude naphthalene, if available, can be sprinkled between the rows to discourage the flies.

Any good soil will grow carrots. While the roots will be more shapely and smoother in a light soil of sandy mixture, they are generally of better color and firmer texture when grown on clay soils.

DEATH TRAP—Thirty-five persons met death in the crash of the giant airliner shown above when it smashed into the ground near Chatsworth, California. The pilot radioed just moments before the crash that "violent fighting" was taking place aboard the plane. Rescue workers (lower left) carry one of the victims from the crash scene. The two men in robes are members of a religious cult located in the Santa Susana mountain range where the plane dashed into the ground. Mrs. Judith Frost (lower right) said the fight started 10,000 feet in the air when one of the passengers became hysterical.

'Tear All Threads'

Red Directive Aimed at Purging Church

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (UP) — A communist directive to party members named the Roman Catholic church as "our greatest enemy Monday" and outlined a plan to "liquidate" the church order in Czechoslovakia.

The directive said the state's aim was to "tear all threads between the Vatican and the Czechoslovak hierarchy."

The directive, dated June 28, reached the United Press through a reliable source. It was distributed to communist workers in a factory of Zlin (Gotwaldov) in connection with recruiting for a three-day government-sponsored religious festival, July 3-5.

It said "it is necessary to fight against the church because it is our most dangerous enemy."

1. "It is necessary to put honest - thinking Catholics against (Archbishop) Josef Beran. This is not a matter of church liquidation, but of liquidation of the church order."

2. "We do not want to liquidate the (Catholic) faith. We want to tear all threads between the Vatican and the Czechoslovak hierarchy." We must build a strong dam against the bishops and archbishops."

3. "We wanted originally to find agreement with the church. The church, however, did not want to join this agreement. Today, agreement will be much graver and cruel for the church."

Three-fourths of the population, some 9,000,000 persons, in Czechoslovakia are Catholics.

The directive said pro-Vatican elements would be "liquidated" by "purge" and by isolation from Rome.

The directive said "this enemy (the church) is nested among our peasant people."

"With a pruge," it said, "the question of agriculture (land reform) can also be solved. Then there will be no grave obstacles to forming cooperatives and the transition (to) . . . socialism."

The directive said "the situation in our country is much graver than some of our comrades realize."

Senate OK's Blake-Boyd Liquor Bill

Would Take Agents From Civil Service

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The Senate yesterday reconsidered an earlier defeat and then passed the Blake-Boyd bill to remove liquor enforcements agents from the protection of civil service.

The 18-20 vote was along strict party lines, with the Democrats putting the measure across.

Sen. Joseph Bartunek charged that liquor inspectors "have almost Gestapo powers" and should be placed under stricter supervision and responsibility.

Sen Arthur Blake (D-Martins Ferry) declared the measure was "not aimed at civil service but at those who abuse and embarrass civil service."

Blake charged that former Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, a Republican "loaded up the liquor department with as many of his friends as he could" and that these inspectors now seek to embarrass the (Lausche) administration by abusing their powers, practicing Gestapo tactics and breeding disrespect for all law."

Declaring the inspectors were guilty of "coercion" and 'entrapment," Blake continued:

"We should restore respect to the department by untying the hands of the liquor director and giving him the right to choose his own enforcement personnel. Those who act properly have nothing to fear."

The Republican opposition was led by minority leader Roscoe Walcutt (R-Columbus), who asserted that "a great many things should be done in the liquor department, but this is not one of them."

"You will be serving notice to the public that liquor inspectors will not be able to be used for a great many other purposes if they are subject to the absolute whim of the director, with all the resultant dangers of shakedown — which are all to common."

Upsets Feature American Loop Softball Play

3 Favorites Fall In Round Openers

The fast American Softball league last night staged the biggest batch of upsets of the season.

Not one of the favorites on the three-game slate managed to come out on top in the first set of games in the second round. Todd's Jewelry smacked down Liederkranz, 11 to 7; Farm Tools surprised Isaly Dairy, 3 to 1, and Disabled American Veterans hung a 3-to-1 defeat on Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Jack Walters of Farm Tools fashioned the top mound effort when he permitted Isaly's only three hits, one a double by Al Bechtler. He fanned six and walked one while his mates collected six hits off Charley Bauer. Farm Tools scored once in the second and Isaly's knotted the count in the third. A pair of tallies in the fifth won for the Toolmen.

For VFW it was a case of too much Wayne Hough. The first round winners could get only four blows off Hough who scored the first run of the game in the opening frame. Hough's double was the lone extra-base blow of the game. He gave VFW its only run in the fifth. DAV counted two in the last of the sixth to win.

Despite three Liederkranz homers, Todd's won its 29th game in 37 starts. Paul Winebrenner needed help from Dale McKinley to knock off the tough lodge crew. The Windsor brothers accounted for the home run barrage—Pitcher Kenny getting two and Frank hitting one. Kenny also had a single.

Ted Bush blasted two triples for Todd's.

Todd's Jewelry played its second game of the day at Fredericktown last night and dropped a 3-to-1 decision to the all-stars. Todd's plays DAV Friday evening at Johns park and then goes to Galion for a 8:30 game with the Galion Sportsmens Grill team. Sunday the Jewelers play at Delaware against the Indians.

Legion Ball Club Wallops Amvets, 15-2

American Legion post 16 walloped the Amvets, 15-2, in the playoff of a first round International league softball game yesterday.

The victory was the fifth without defeat for the Legion nine and cinched for them a tie for the first half championship. They have one more game to play and must win it to cop the title. American Veterans Committee has completed its first half schedule with a five-wins-one-loss record.

The veteran Aid Geiger was the workhorse for the Legion yesterday as he pitched a three-hit game and walloped a home run and single in four trips up. Fogel, batting just ahead of Geiger, had four for four including one double.

Lucas To Dedicate Community Park With Parade Sunday

By VIRGINIA LEE
Staff Correspondent

Lucas Memorial Park, a state and community project, will be dedicated to the community's service people, living and dead, at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in an interesting program that will follow a colorful parade.

Rev. M. P. Paetznick, former Lucas minister who is now at Bucyrus, will give an address after invocation by Rev. Ralph Chapman, of North Ridgeville, who, during his Lucas pastorate, was the park board president.

The Lucas Boy Scout Troop, under the direction of Scout Master Eldred Briner, will raise the flag and lead the audience in the pledge of allegiance. The Mt. Zion band will play a few selections and accompany group singing.

A parade through the village will be led by the band, the Boy Scouts in uniform, a horse-drawn wagon bearing guests of honor, and will include entries of individuals, organizations and various groups, decorated bicycles, pets and other features.

It is expected that the Clear Fork Riding Club will have a sizeable delegation. All interested groups and individuals are invited to participate in the parade that will mass at the school at 2 p. m. Lavern Mitchell and his committee are in charge of this feature of the program. Herbert Fox will act as parade marshal.

IT'S COOL HERE!—Kathleen, the year-and-a-half-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Robinson, Lucas, sits and splashes in the cool creek that runs through the Lucas Memorial Park.

BROILING A STEAK—Hugh McConnell, president of the park board, prepares to make use of one of the park's picnic stoves and tables.

Workers Dig Into Ancient Wine Cellar

CINCINNATI—(AP)—This excavating work can be a right nice job.

Men working on a downtown building project Tuesday suddenly broke into some long forgotten wine cellars and discovered hundreds of bottles of wine, more than a hundred years old.

"The best wine we've ever tasted," was the description given by one of the workmen.

The bottles bore faded labels saying the contents were "invaluable for general debility, loss of appetite, prostration and nursing mothers."

Joe Berginc operates a precision balance, just like those in the can weigher, as a double check to make sure that every can brings you honest measure of good Burkhardt's.

If the Children Play With the Telephone They May Delay

Children Often Place Telephones In Trouble

In Your Own Interest Don't Let the Children Play With the Telephone --

Berginc guarantees honest measure

from the HEART of the hops

It's harder to be sure of full measure when we put beer in cans. We can't look through them as we do with bottles.

So we weigh every single can—the weight of the can and crown plus 12 fluid ounces of beer or more, for that's the promise printed on the outside of the can itself. We weigh each one on this machine which Joe Berginc is running.

If the can hasn't leaked before it gets to the weigher, the chances are that it never will. By that time, each can has been through the filler and crowner and has been jostled around quite a bit. It has gone through the pasteurizer where the heat raises the pressure which tries to break the seams and cooled off again.

Then, so it won't be even a couple of drops short of its 12 fluid ounces, every can passes through a group of air jets. All the water is blown off—just as an added precaution!

Cans enter the weigher at the right as it turns clockwise. Each can slides onto its own balance. If it's the correct weight or more, its balance lets it drop down a fraction of an inch so it goes out the slide toward the top left corner of the picture. If it's short, it is rejected automatically by the machine, like the two cans sitting right in front of Joe.

You can see Joe working with a balance just beyond the can weigher. This is a precision balance, just like each of those built into the machine itself. He uses it to spot-check the cans coming through, as a double check on the weigher itself.

Joe is good at this, but he's just as good on the case packer or at the bottle inspection window. You might call him a utility man in the bottle shop.

And he was a utility man before he came with us four and one half years ago. To give you an idea, he was born in Pennsylvania and he grew up to mine coal there.

In Georgia he was a farmer, where cotton and tobacco brought him a good income out of the brick-red soil. In New Mexico and Montana, he was a truck driver. He has also been a baker long enough to talk about it, and has held other jobs for shorter periods.

At Burkhardt's he has done a good job for four and one half years. His standing among the men he works with is shown by the fact that he was Secretary of Brewery Workers Union, Local 17, Branch 2, for a period of three years. Also that he has been delegate to the C. I. O. Council of Akron for two years. He still holds this position.

We're proud to have men like Joe Berginc taking care of our reputation for full honest measure of good beer, and we're proud that he merits the confidence of the men he represents.

We consider his experience and carefulness as extras—added to superb ingredients—that help to make Burkhardt's the beer so many people like best.

Jackie Robinson Pulling Away In Loop Hit Parade

NEW YORK — (AP) — Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn's all-star second baseman, is pulling away from the pack in the national league batting race.
